Dr. King Starts Drive In Chicago

CHICAGO (AP) — Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. staged a marathon speaking sweep through Chicago neighborhoods Saturday, asserting "the Negro is not free anywhere in the United States."

The president of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference spoke at eight different rallies during the day in opening a northern swing designed to combat segregation in northern cities.

Referring to the racial picture in northern cities, King told more than 1,000 persons who gathered in a cinder lot near the Friendship Baptist Church in Chicago's predominantly Negro 24th ward to hear his final talk of the day:

"Things are not quite right in Chicago, New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and other northern cities. The fact is, the Negro is not free anywhere in the United States."

The crowds ranged from 400 to more than 1,000 at King's various appearances. Six similar meetings have been set for tomorrow.

The President of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference spoke first to an overflow crowd of 500 in the El Bethel Baptist Church in the heart of the South Side Negro area. The meeting primarily was for clergymen and at least one half of the crowd was white.

A motorcade, with Dr. King riding in a Cadillac automobile, then proceeded to Altgeld Gardens, a public housing project of 1,200 residents in the southeastern corner of Chicago. Police estimated the crowd at 300, almost entirely Negro.

At the El Bethel Baptist church the collection book was passed inside and outside after Dr. King made his appeal for funds and before he left the meeting.

At Altgeld Gardens, Dr. King spoke from a flatbed truck in a parking lot. He said that "when a man can't get good integrated education he is a slave. We are here to tell Chicago: 'before I be a slave, I'll be buried in my' (Continued on Page Eleven)

Report Papandreou Suffering Losses

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Ousted Premier George Papandreou was reported Saturday to be suffering losses in his party, with a rising number of parliamentary deputies turning against him in his bid to get back into office.

This was reported by sources inside Papandreou's Center Union party. They said Papandreou's own former deputy premier — Stephanos Stephanopoulos, 65, could emerge as a compromise candidate acceptable to a majority of the 300-member Parliament.

Stephanopoulos was not among the 20 Center Union deputies who fell away from Papandreou at the outset of the crisis 10 days ago and helped Premier George Athanasiadis Novas form a government.

But the party sources said he was a leader of a faction ready to bolt Papandreou if that would be a way to pull the country out of its crisis — gravest since the 1947-49 Communist civil war.

Just Friday, Papandreou claimed he still could count on 140 to 142 deputies of his party to stand by him when Athanasiadis Novas goes to Parliament Thursday or Friday to seek the confidence vote his government constitutionally needs to survive. But Saturday Papandreou's support had reportedly dwindled to less than a third of that.

"I doubt that Papandreou will have 40 of his own deputies left," one Center Union party member said.

But deputies swinging away from Papandreou were reportedly reluctant to back Athanasiadis Novas in a coalition with the rightist National Radical Union.

With a shift of Center Union members, a compromise candidate could line up a majority, in coalition with the 99 members of the rightist National Radical Union.

These were among the 12 men who were aboard the deep-sea trawler Snoopy when she was blown to bits Friday night in a freak explosion almost surely caused by a torpedo. Eight died.

One body was brought to shore with the survivors Saturday. Coast Guard spokesmen held out little hope that any other bodies would be found. Sharks were sighted in the area shortly after the disaster.

Among the victims was an 18-year-old "shacker," Daniel Brody of Scarborough, Maine, serving as an apprentice.

The 65-foot-long wooden boat out of Portland, Maine, had been working 41 miles due east of False Cape on North Carolina's Outer Banks, a watery graveyard for ships for years and the infamous "Torpedo Alley" where Nazi U-boats sank scores of Allied vessels during World War II.

She had been out for four days and 17,000 pounds of shucked scallops were resting in ice below decks. Then about 9:15 p.m., with the winch working so hard to pull in the latest catch that the motor had to be watered down to keep it cool, an ugly metal shape broke surface with the scallops.

Norman Maillet, on his first voyage as skipper of the nearby trawler Prowler and for five years the mate aboard the Snoopy, saw the net coming in. And he saw what looked like a torpedo.

"It was long and round," Maillet said. "It was still half in the water when I saw it. I was talking to the Snoopy's skipper (Edward Doody of Portland) on the radio and he said he had something but he didn't know what it was. He said he was going to bring it aboard."

Maillet said he broke off his conversation just before the explosion.

"It just went," he said. "There was just a flash and it was all in pieces. There was nothing but little bits of debris, and the dory and the top of the powerhouse floating around."

Sidney C. Knowlton, 22, of Gloucester, Mass., a deckhand aboard the Prowler, said it was not unusual to bring up explosives from the scallop banks.

Not too long ago, he said, the Prowler pulled up a box of ammunition bearing a 1942 date. And within the past two weeks, he said, a torpedo was brought into New Bedford, Mass.

"I figured my bearings and wrote in my log, 'Half of the time is gone and I have covered only one-fourth of the distance.' It was only about 600 miles from the California coast, and that's when the depression began."

I had visions of being a derelict at sea if this was to be my rate of progress. My mental salvation came with the hours I spent daily writing my log and taking pictures.

But the winds became more favorable. It never really calmed down to give me pleasant sailing. My spirits rose. I think I was more concerned (Continued on Page Eleven)

U.S., Viet Warplanes Kill About 300 Cong

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—U.S. and Vietnamese warplanes Saturday scorched and bombed guerrilla strongholds in South Viet Nam, killing about 300 Viet Cong, a U.S. spokesman reported.

There were only scattered clashes around, but in one, U.S. Marines beat off a Viet Cong attack and killed four guerrillas west of Chu Lai, 340 miles northeast of Saigon, the spokesman said. There were no Marine casualties.

In the air warfare against Communist North Viet Nam, U.S. planes struck north and south of Hanoi. In the heaviest strike, pilots reported one large building was left in ruins and six others were damaged in a raid on the Lang Chi explosives depot, 55 miles northeast of Hanoi.

The U.S. Navy was active on two fronts, at Qui Nhon, 265 miles northeast of Saigon, and in the area of the big Da Nang base, some 160 air miles north of Qui Nhon.

North of Qui Nhon, two U.S. destroyers joined Vietnamese planes Friday night in bombarding a Viet Cong fleet of 25 junks, sinking 23 of them, the military spokesman said. Navy observers estimated 50 Viet Cong were killed in the air strikes. There was no body count.

Two other destroyers of the U.S. 7th Fleet, the Stoddard and the John R. Craig, fired more than 40 rounds of 5-inch shells Friday into an area believed occupied by the Viet Cong eight miles from Da Nang harbor. A spotter reported "very effective impact on the target."

The heaviest Viet Cong casualties from air strikes were reported 10 miles east of Quang Ngai, 330 miles northeast of Saigon. The spokesman estimated 110 Viet Cong were killed in two encampments by four B-57s.

"Both encampments were situated in open sandy terrain on the coast, so we had a pretty good view of the target for a change," said Capt. Kenneth G. Blackwell, 32, one of the pilots from Newaygo, Mich.

U.S. armed helicopters were reported to have taken substantial tolls of Viet Cong in the Bien Hoa area, 25 miles north of Saigon, and in Quang Ngai Province in the central lowlands far to the north. In North Viet Nam, a dozen F105 Thunderchiefs carried out the raid on Lang Chi, dropping three tons of bombs. The weather was overcast and light anti-aircraft fire was encountered, but all planes returned safely, the spokesman said.

Eight other Thunderchiefs, supported by four planes, struck the Tai Xuouan ammunition depot, 60 miles northwest of Hanoi. Pilots reported 10 buildings were badly damaged. Many fires were observed.

Four more Thunderchiefs bombed a railroad bridge in the Yen Bay area about 90 miles northwest of Hanoi, but results were not reported.

Urges International Action To Stop Rise Of Nuclear Powers

LONDON (AP)—Britain's minister for disarmament called Saturday for urgent international action to stop the rise of at least five new nuclear powers "in the next few years."

Lord Chalfont warned, in an exclusive interview with The Associated Press, that the unchecked spread of atomic power would bring "appalling dangers for all mankind."

The five powers were not named by Chalfont, who flies to Geneva to speak for Britain at the 17-nation disarmament conference reopening Tuesday. But they probably were among a dozen nations he said recently had atomic capability.

These are India, Israel, Pakistan, West Germany, Canada, Sweden, the United Arab Republic, Brazil, Switzerland, Italy, Japan and Indonesia. In this connection, President Sukarno of Indonesia has said his nation will produce an atomic bomb shortly.

"The great powers have adopted immensely complicated safety devices to ensure that the power to use nuclear weapons does not fall into the hands of individuals who might be tempted by madness or mistaken political convictions to make use of that power," Chalfont said.

This was a reference to the costly and complex system that guards against unauthorized use of nuclear weapons.

"If a small and perhaps unstable country possessed nuclear weapons it might be much easier for individuals to seize control and make use of them," Chalfont added. "The possibility of nuclear weapons being used in a civil war does not bear thinking about."

The minister also said some Western powers consider a Pacific nuclear force may be needed to insure the security of such countries as India if they renounce nuclear weapons.

Chalfont said the move is one of several possibilities that would be studied if a system of East-West guarantees for non-nuclear states cannot be attained.

Chalfont said the British government has not yet taken a position on all this. But he felt London would be ready to transfer Britain's nuclear deterrent power to control of a Pacific force just as it has offered to do in the case of the projected Atlantic Nuclear Force within NATO.

Chalfont will present a draft treaty at Geneva designed to stop the spread of nuclear weapons. His plan has American, Italian and Canadian backing.

Johnson Summons McNamara

THURMOND, Md. (AP) — President Johnson went for a walk in the wooded seclusion of Cape David Saturday with Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg and summoned Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara up from Washington.

McNamara was called to continue with the President their extensive discussion of the Vietnam situation and what the United States will undertake in the way of additional manpower and other assistance to step up the war against Communist guerrillas.

McNamara returned Tuesday from an on-the-spot inspection trip to South Viet Nam and reportedly told the President a substantial increase in the 75,000-man U.S. force there will be needed.

Johnson is spending what the White House described as a relatively quiet weekend at Camp David, presidential retreat in the Maryland mountains, with Goldberg as one of his guests.

Miss Thailand Is Crowned Miss Universe

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — An exotic raven-haired beauty nicknamed "Pook" for fat — was crowned Miss Universe for 1965 Saturday night.

She nosed out the Finnish entrant, Virpi Miettinen of Helsinki, a blue-eyed blonde model who could assume the role of Miss Universe in case the winner cannot carry out her duties.

Second runner-up was Miss U.S.A., 20-year-old Sue Ann Downey, of Columbus, Ohio.

Sweden's blonde artist, Ingrid Norrman, was third runner-up, and Anna Schuit of Amsterdam, Holland, was fourth.

The 18-year-old black-eyed student from Bangkok was one of the most popular contestants with 8,000 people watching the pageant in Miami Beach Auditorium. Millions more watched on home television sets.

"I never dreamed of this," said Apasra. She had been nervous and did not eat lunch before the final competition.

Apasra is the first Miss Universe from Thailand and the first from her country to compete in this pageant in many years.

Solo Voyage To Hawaii One Of Fear, Loneliness

Editor's Note — Sharon Sites, 34, a Los Angeles widow, last week completed a 40-day single-handed Pacific Ocean crossing from Los Angeles to Hawaii in her 25-foot sloop Sea Sharp. She describes her experiences in the following story written exclusively for The Associated Press.

By SHARON SITES

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP) — Now I've known fear and loneliness.

And perhaps loneliness is the worst part.

Unless you've sat in a boat for five days on end, knowing you're just a speck in a large ocean, this feeling you can never in your wildest dreams imagine. Not unless you've been there, that is.

It was nine months ago, while I was out for a Sunday afternoon drive in Los Angeles, that I found myself at the marina. On an impulse, I drove down. I learned of Al Adams and his sailing school and took down the phone number from a billboard.

OK Six Teachers For Beardstown

BEARDSTOWN — Six new contracts have been approved for the teaching force at the Beardstown schools, and four more teachers are needed to fill the teaching complement.

The board of education at its latest meeting — a special session Saturday — decided it could not approve a request for release from his contract by Ron Sullivan, who has been offered a position at Peoria Richwoods, until a suitable replacement is signed.

BUY BONDS TODAY

Resignations of Harold Burchfield and Alex Walters have been accepted. Burchfield will teach mathematics at Peoria Richwood and Walters has accepted a position at Mount Vernon.

New teachers include Gary Dalpaiz, who will teach social studies; Mary Hardt, who will be math teacher; Mary Ann Mitterer who will teach second grade; Dorothy Reese who will probably teach at the Brick School and Kenneth Reese who will teach biology.

Announcements have been made of the following coaching assignments for the coming term:

VISIT FRIENDS, RELATIVES IN CASS COUNTY

ARENZVILLE — Rev. and Mrs. Herman Hammer of Montevideo, Uruguay, presently of Springfield, Ohio; their daughter, Mrs. David Sidebottom and Nancy of Dayton, Ohio; and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hammer, Jr. and daughters Beverly, Bertha, Brenda and Betty of So. Attleboro, Mass. are spending the week with Mrs. Marie Peck, and other relatives in the area.

On Sunday they attended the Traeger family reunion at Miller Park in Bloomington. Others attending from this area were Mr. and Mrs. J. Wendell Peck, Herschell and Wendy Jo; Mr. and Mrs. William Rawlings and Mitchell; Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Hammer and Mrs. Fritz Hammer and Barbara, Dennis; Mrs. Mary her teaching duties there.

Weather Smiles On Cass Farmers

BEARDSTOWN — A number of Cass County farmers interviewed in the past few days seem to be unanimous in the view that if weather conditions continue favorable this year's corn crop should set some kind of record.

It doesn't take much experience to decide right now that the corn never "looked so good."

An automobile trip over highways that bisect cornfields in many parts of the county discloses that there is every prospect for a bumper yield.

Kenneth Fielder, one Cass County farmer whose primary interest is feeding hogs, believes the 1965 crop will be a great one. Alfie Lebkuecher thinks so too, and so do hundreds of others throughout this area.

A year ago at this time the situation was quite different due to a severe drought, but thus far this season the rains have been timely and ample to assure good growth and development in the fields.

Other crops also appear to be "going strong" and this incudes soybeans and watermelons.

Gardeners report bumper crops of tomatoes, sweet corn and other produce.

The melon crop usually is ready for harvest in August, and this means the annual opening of the "melon stands" along the highways between Beardstown and Bluff Springs.

WESLEYAN HONOR STUDENT

ROODHOUSE — Phillip Ward Ballard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ward K. Ballard, has been placed on the Dean's list at Illinois Wesleyan University according to Everette L. Walker, vice-president and dean of the university. The list is based on the grades from the second semester of the school year.

Mrs. Otis Harp Hosts Woman's Club Conclave

ROODHOUSE — Mrs. Otis Harp was hostess to 23 clubwomen at the annual Greene County Federation of Women's clubs meeting at the Harp cottage east of Roodhouse Friday evening.

Mrs. Verna B. Taylor, president, presided and prayer was offered by Mrs. Harp. Mrs. Dale Coates of the Roodhouse White Hall Junior Woman's club gave a report on the activities of the club for the year. Mrs. Harp gave the report for the Senior Woman's club.

New officers were installed during a candlelight ceremony by Mrs. H. L. Janvrin. Installed were Mrs. Gary Fitzgarrall, president; Mrs. Rowe Lee, vice-president; Mrs. Beverly Shaw, secretary; Mrs. Ray Camp, historian; Mrs. Gene Barnett, parliamentarian.

At the close of the session, the guests were served cake, punch and nuts from a tea table decorated in red and white.

The leader was assisted by Mrs. Charles Wegeholt, Mrs. Edna Telling, Mrs. Oscar D. Nortrup, and Mrs. A. H. D. land.

Closing devotions were given by Mrs. Henry Schroeder. Closing hymn was "We Love The Place God Gave Us." Mrs. Oscar Nortrup read the minutes in the absence of the secretary.

JEWELRY STORE WALL DAMAGED

A short in wiring damaged a portion of wall paneling in the Duncan and Vernon jewelry store, 37 South side of the public square Friday evening.

Firemen called to the scene at 8:48 p.m. reported that a small section of wood paneling had been charred by the wiring short.

Later, at 9:46 p.m. firemen were called to the intersection of Prairie and West Lafayette where the driver of a station wagon became alarmed when she witnessed "smoke" rising from under her car's hood.

Mrs. Ellsworth Barton of 619 South Fayette told firemen she thought her car was on fire. After investigation firemen discovered that a radiator hose had broken and was spewing water on the engine, causing steam.

ARENZVILLE LEGION CHOOSES OFFICERS

ARENZVILLE — Chester Lutkehus was elected Commander of American Legion Post 604 at the Legion's meeting on July 19. Other officers elected for the year are William Dotzert, senior vice-commander; Clyde Ginder, junior vice-commander; Robert Stock, finance officer; Gerald Beard, sgt.-at-arms; Wendell Peck, chaplain and Myron Beard, service officer.

Matter of Fact

Man in his ignorance or thoughtlessness has brought virtual extermination to herds of wild animals and to great flocks of birds. At the same time, he has used his scientific knowledge upon the animals he wished to retain. At mid-20th century, the number of cattle in the world reached an estimated 972 million head, sheep numbered 917 million and swine, representing one of the major food animals, totaled 386 million.

When It Hits 90, This Boss Calls Ice Cream Break

BATAVIA, Ill. (AP) — When the thermometer reached 90 degrees Friday, 600 employees of the Furnas Electric Co. knocked off for an ice cream break.

It was on the boss — Leto M. Furnas, 80. She has a standing order for the ice cream break on days of 90 degrees or more. She sponsors an annual employees' dinner and gives presents to the plant force at Christmas.

Mrs. Furnas, widow of the firm's founder, William Carlyle Furnas, is chairman of the board. She's its oldest employee, too, in terms of continuous service, as well as age.

"I don't really do much any more," she said to an interviewer, "except pass upon decisions."

President William Lisman took a slightly different view: "Mrs. Furnas' word is law," he said.

She never misses a board meeting and drives her own car. The company, which markets electrical controls, designed to handle industrial current loads, sold more than $10 million worth of its products last year and is about 20 per cent ahead of that rate this year.

It was started in the Furnas home in West Allis, Wis., in 1932.

"One of our first problems," Mrs. Furnas recalled, "was the cookie jar."

"You see," she explained, "the shop was in the basement, the assembly department in the living room, and the drafting department upstairs."

"Every time my husband went through the kitchen on the way from one to the other, he took a couple of my cookies. I finally had to hide them from him."

Mrs. Furnas assembled the company's first product, a drum switch, and one of the first 50 she turned out is mounted on a plaque in the lobby of the plant in Batavia.

The firm moved to Batavia in 1940, "because it just got too big for the house," Mrs. Furnas said.

Now 150,000 square feet is being enlarged to 200,000 with additions, and the entire place is being faced with blue brick. "I'm partial to blue," Mrs. Furnas said.

She met her husband, whom she called Carl, when she boarded a street car in Terre Haute, Ind., in 1908. He had been graduated from Purdue University at Lafayette, Ind., with a degree in electrical engineering, but jobs were scarce. He was motorman on the street car.

Later, he joined Allis Chalmers Manufacturing Co. in West Allis, and became works manager there before he quit to start his own business.

"He wanted to make a magnetic drive mechanism," she recalled. "It didn't work out, but we went on with his designs for controls."

Furnas was president, and then chairman of the company until his death in 1962. Then, Mrs. Furnas was named to succeed him as head of the board.

She has traveled several hundred thousand miles, much of it helping to promote business, and likes to use the airlines. Her home is a little single bungalow near the plant. In recent years, she has spent the coldest months of the year in Miami, but she's bought a winter home in Phoenix, Ariz.

Mrs. Furnas administers a scholarship fund established by the firm in memory of her husband. This year, the foundation awarded scholarship grants totaling $19,000 to 31 students.

Vietnam, Korea Campaigns Compared

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The question most often asked some- one back from Viet Nam is, "How does it compare with the campaign in Korea?"

There are some similarities, but also important differences. It is some of those differences that make our present problem more difficult.

The terrain of Viet Nam is not unlike that of Korea. Both have rice paddies, rugged mountains and a marked shortage of excel- lent roads.

The climates of the two coun- tries are, of course, quite dis- similar. Korea was a two- weather war—very hot in sum- mer, very cold in winter. In Viet Nam the danger of frostbite isn't one of our major military menaces, or likely to become one. The nature of our enemy in the two places is almost identi- cal. Although the average Viet Cong Soldier is slightly smaller than the North Korean, he is equally well-trained, resourceful in the use of weapons and land- scape, and able to get a lot of mileage out of a ball of rice. He appears almost inhumanly in- different to his own physical comfort.

In soldierly qualities the Viet Cong cannot escape our grudging admiration.

One of the major differences between our present problem in Viet Nam and that which we faced in Korea lies in the posi- tion of the two countries.

Korea is a peninsula. By our control of the sea, we could iso- late our enemy from support and supply except from one di- rection—the north.

We could take one end of the peninsula and squeeze it like a toothpaste tube, and concen- trate our enemy at the other end. This is what we did in Ko- rea.

It isn't quite that simple in Viet Nam. That land cannot be completely isolated by seapow- er. It has mountainous and jung- le borders with two other coun- tries—Laos and Cambodia. This helps the hit-and-run warfare tactics of the Viet Cong, makes it harder for us to put a mili- tary fist around them and squeeze them out.

As of now we do not have at all the firm battle line so be- loved by classic practitioners of the military art.

What we have is a kind of polka-dot war. Our positions of power merely dot the map of South Viet Nam, and the enemy flows around and between them in restless prowess, assaulting them almost as he chooses.

Our task now is to begin to connect and unite these sepa- rated strongholds, so that we will have more space to move in and the enemy will have less fluidity.

It probably is a fair guess that from now on we will use tanks, artillery and aircraft in more formidable number than we have as yet. But it would be un- wise to assume this will save us from the mass employment of our own infantry, which we also had to call on in Korea.

A final comparison: The South Korean in 1950 had a stable gov- ernment and responded to the challenge of invasion with im- mediate and stubborn ferocity. On the other hand, the South Vietnamese of today holds a dubious loyalty to any govern- ment and is wearied by much fighting and little progress. He is somewhat groggy from being hit so often.

This means that instead of having a fit ally we have one whose purpose we may have to rebuild, as well as his strength. Fifteen years after the out- break of conflict in Korea we still have troops stationed there. The same possibility exists in respect to Viet Nam.

The popular king-sized zipper is an important feature on easy-care separates for youngsters this season. Planted squarely front and center (left) for fashion news, the zipper with the big round ring turns up on bold sailing duck jamaicas. The shorts are teamed with a sleeveless shirt in a lively beach print. The big O zipper turns up again (right) down the front of a skimpy duck shirt. These are Russ Girl designs.

Viets Carry Fight To Cong Despite Monsoon

PHUNG HIEP, South Viet Nam (AP) — Driving rains and blankets of clouds hung over the Mekong River delta in late July. But Vietnamese troops and their

U.S. advisers are carrying the war to the Viet Cong in highly mobile operations linked with close air support. Bomb hits tear huge craters in the soggy land of the delta, throwing up piles of mud and at times changing the course of canals. Soldiers leap from helicopters and sink waist deep in water and mud, but charge ahead. Helicopters circle overhead and dart down to quickly unload or pick up troops. One of these operations was carried out Friday in this delta area 100 miles south of Saigon. The basic idea is to act on the basis of intelligence reports and to move against major Viet Cong units by lifting troops around them in small groups, boxing them in and hitting them hard from the ground and the air.

The operation began after intelligence reported 600 to 800 Viet Cong were moving in an area near this delta town. Troops of a crack Vietnamese ranger battalion were moved to two points to begin the action. Weather during the morning was so bad that it was impossible to confirm the intelligence reports from the air.

By noon the weather had lifted a bit and helicopters carrying psychological warfare teams and medics and equipped with loudspeakers swooped over the attack area. They told the people to move out, identify themselves in their sampans and go to nearby government posts.

When the people reach the posts, the psychological warfare teams talk with them, distribute leaflets and explain the purpose of the presence of American troops and bomb strikes. The medics treat the sick or injured. Many people were seen from the air, moving out along the waterways of the delta.

After the people left, the air strikes began. U.S. Navy and Air Force planes roared in and the explosion of heavy bombs shook the jelly like earth of the delta. Black geysers spewed into the air as bombs hit.

As the strike planes were still in action, helicopters began moving in troops. Orienting themselves from the air, the troops hit the mud and water of the paddies and charged forward without waiting for ground communication.

The brightly painted steel helmets of the Vietnamese troops served to identify them from the air, serving to keep the air support from perhaps mistaking them for Viet Cong.

American advisers being heavy, experience difficulty in moving through the mud of the rice paddies. The lighter Vietnamese in the well-trained units are able to move rapidly.

BLOODMOBILE IN CARROLLTON FRIDAY

CARROLLTON — The American Red Cross Bloodmobile will be in Carrollton Friday, July 30 at the First Baptist church from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. The quota is 101 pints.

The quota is set because of the fact that the county is lagging in keeping up the blood program and more is needed this time to come near making the quota for the county.

Not only is the county short in giving blood, they are also short in financial contributions in the amount of $105 for the 1965 fund drive. A food sale held last week netted $54.20. This amount will be credited to Carrollton, Woodville and Linder townships.

The women of the Presbyterian Women's Organization with Mrs. George Grauel as president will be in charge of arrangements and canteen service at the July 30 visit of the Bloodmobile to the local church.

NOTICE

To my friends and patrons, I am no longer associated in any way with the Triple Flame Restaurant.

structured next to the present court. Provisions for the court were made in the will of the late Mary B. Watt. Her husband, A. W. Watt and her sons contributed a like amount for the project and the new court will be constructed in the near future. It will be made of colored asphalt as are standard college and high school courts.

Additional barbecue pits and other picnic facilities will also be added in the near future.

To Present UN Film

A film, "A Carol for Christmas," will be shown Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. at the First Christian church, Winchester. The film, which depicts the United Nations as an arena for international conversation, was televised in December 1964.

The public is welcome to attend and a special invitation has been given all church groups. There will be no admission charge.

To Join Parade March

The Winchester Grade School Marching Band will join other groups in the Burgoo Parade, Thursday, August 5. The parade is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m. Further arrangements will be announced later.

Caring for the flowers were Mrs. Paul Davis and Mrs. Mary Trowbridge. Pallbearers were Carl Freitag, Carl Bourn, Haley Bourn, Ben Beerup, Tom Elsome and Frank Hankins.

Burial was in Diamond Grove cemetery.

Approve $75,000 For Anti-Poverty Office In State

SPRINGFIELD — Governor Otto Kerner has approved a $75,000 appropriation for the operation of a state agency in charge of securing as much money for War on Poverty programs in Illinois.

The Illinois office of economic opportunity, which Kerner created with the passage of the federal Economic Opportunity Act last October, is given legal status as a branch of the new department of commerce and industry.

Offices are in the new state revenue building, and director of the agency is Thomas C. Jackson, of Peoria, former United Auto Workers union official.

Jackson is expected to retain his $17,500 a year post. He also has three $12,000 a year assistants in charge of regional offices in Springfield, Carbondale and Chicago.

State Share
The $75,000 is to be the state's 10 per cent contribution toward grants from Washington which will help finance Jackson's non-civil service staff.

The new law also provides that the director is to have an economic opportunity council, composed of 13 high-ranking state officials and an advisory council of 20 persons to be appointed by the governor.

As introduced by the Kerner administration, the bill would have put Jackson directly under the governor in the chain of command.

It was later amended by the state to make the agency a division under the commerce and industry department.

Jackson commented that during the past fiscal year, "Illinois received, give or take a few thousand, about $20 million dollars for anti-poverty programs."

Journal Courier, Jacksonville, Ill., July 25, 1965

Another bill amended the code of criminal procedure to provide cash bail provisions shall apply to all bailable offenses. It further provides that deposit shall not be less than $25 in each for bail by persons arrested under traffic laws. Also approved was an act relating to state purchases of printing paper, stationary and envelopes. The bill, which was sponsored by Senate Majority leader W. Russell Arrington (R-Evanston), requires the letting of contract to the lowest responsible bidder and provides for a maximum price and defines procedures for emergency purchases and control by the Department of Finance, effective January 1, 1966. Arrington, who is chairman of the Legislative Audits commission, introduced the bill after Theodore J. Isaacs, Kerner's former revenue director, was indicted in an investigation of envelope purchases by the state.

Challenge Deepens As Nasser Celebrates 13 Years In Power

By DAVID LANCASHIRE
CAIRO (AP) — Gamal Abdel Nasser, 47, had proclaimed this would be the decisive summer for the Middle East, but the image of Arab unity is broken past few weeks have witnessed the collapse of Nasser's policies in the Middle East, Africa and elsewhere. one diplomatic source in Cairo contends. But few diplomats or few Arabs expect the defection of the Arab world will be more than a temporary setback for the Socialist leader. Nasser specializes in crises, deftly riding the shifting sands of the Arab world. He has emerged victor from almost every political challenge he has faced since he and 90 fellow officers took control of Egypt in a midnight coup July 23, 1952.

The current challenge is a breakaway from Cairo's leadership of Arab capitals from Algiers to Baghdad.

The overthrow of Ahmed Ben Bella in Algeria and a government shift in Iraq have left Nasser stripped of his major allies. Kuwait, whose foundations of oil make it the financier of the Middle East, walked out of the Arab Common Market and lined up with Saudi Arabia whose King Feisal is one of Nasser's chief adversaries.

Other Arab League members, such as Jordan, Sudan and Lebanon, busy themselves with problems at home. Tunisia, Morocco and Libya pursue their own non-Nasserist ways. Syria maintains a wave of anti-Nasser propaganda.

For the moment, Nasser's only disciple is Yemen, but the cost of maintaining 50,000 Egyptian troops there is a burden.

At home, the shortcomings of Nasser's policies, against the Congo and West Germany. They follow Nasser as a hero who has given them dignity and hope and such benefits as land, free education and medical care.

But in Egypt, the economic challenge is deepening. Grumbling can be heard in cities where factory hands, nationalized workers and government employees have been pampered by the rush into socialism — and wealthy pashas and businessmen have been wrung dry.

Food prices have been rising in cooperative shops. A decree ordering three meatless days weekly meant little since few could afford meat. Such simple items as matches are hard to get. The cost of living rose 14 per cent in the past year. Retail prices have jumped 29 per cent in two years.

Nasser's haste in trying to transform Egypt into a modern state, with a massive program of projects and few factories, has drained foreign currency reserves, leaving not enough to buy essential imports.

Some economic experts figure Egypt will never be able to cure its ills by industrialization — or by any other means until Moslem objections to birth control are overcome.

Ninety seven per cent of Egypt is desert. Agricultural production cannot keep up with the growing number of mouths to feed. Nasser admits the benefits of the Soviet-financed Aswan Dam will merely keep pace with the problem and not solve it.

For three years, Nasser has relied on American aid food shipments to keep prices at a level where his people could afford to eat. Faced with expiration of an aid agreement with the United States, Nasser called off his anti-American campaign and once again is maintaining a carefully neutral balance between East and West.

PLAN RECEPTION TO HONOR PASTOR

A reception, honoring the newly-appointed pastor of Ebenezer Methodist church, will be held today.

The new pastor, Reverend A. W. Mathias, will be honored at a polluck luncheon to be served at 12:30 p.m. today, following regular worship services. Reverend and Mrs. Mathias came to Jacksonville from Woodstock where Reverend Mathias served as chaplain-director of the Sunset Home For The Retired.

Ebenezer church members and friends are welcome to attend the reception.

New York Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market returned to the losing side last week after three weeks of recovery. It took a substantial loss amid concern about U.S. policy regarding Viet Nam.

Friday was a day of mild recovery, but every other day was a losing one on the New York Stock Exchange.

The Tuesday session brought the sharpest loss. Stocks were dampened from the outset by Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara's statement that the situation had deteriorated in Viet Nam and that recommendations will be made to fulfill U.S. obligations. This prompted rumors that Washington intends to call up the reserves.

That day's decline worsened considerably on later news that Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev had threatened retribution against "American interventionism" and urged unity among world Communists against "imperialist aggression."

Throughout the rest of the week, Wall Street was preoccupied with the high-level conferences in Washington aimed at determining new U.S. policy in the troubled Southeast Asia corner.

Traders stood on the sidelines to a great extent and institutional investors seemed loathe to commit funds.

With no decision yet from Washington, Wall Street finally screwed up its courage enough on Friday to do a little buying.

stocks were leading beneficiaries of the Friday advance.

Ford reported record sales and earnings for the second quarter and the first half. It spearheaded a fairly good rally by Big Three motor stocks which had the additional benefit of news that sales of new cars were at peak levels.

This was not enough to save the list from a fairly severe loss on average for the week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks declined 5.8 to 319.1, its sharpest decline since the week ended June 26 when it fell 8.6.

The Dow Jones Industrial average fell 16.46 to 863.97.

Of 1,542 issues traded last week on the New York Stock Exchange, 1,030 declined and 343 advanced.

Volume for the week was 19,179,433 compared with 19,015,424 the previous week — both relatively low figures.

Activity in the bond markets was light during the past week. U.S. Treasury bond prices ended the week mostly unchanged to a shade lower.

The Treasury market apparently shrugged off a sharp increase in the price of gold in London.

On the New York Stock Exchange, bond volume totaled a par value of $41.27 million. Price declines outnumbered advances 221 to 118, while prices of 132 issues were unchanged.

Chicago Livestock Market Report

CHICAGO (AP)—The trend of the butcher hog market was steadily upward last week and it closed at a top of $25 a hundredweight—down 75 cents from the peak paid on Monday.

Demand never was more than moderately active although the week's offerings were light at only 19,500 head compared with 24,500 last week.

It was the smallest supply for a nonholiday week since October 1961.

The heaviest run of the week was 5,000 head on Monday. The lighter offerings thereafter had nothing more than a steady effect at best.

The primary bearish factor was a generally lower wholesale pork market. The average price of all butcher hogs for the week was $24.70 a hundredweight compared with $24.78 last week and $17.56 a year ago.

After a little firmness on Monday, slaughterers slipped into an easier trend and closed steady to 25 cents lower. Lower prices for carcass beef at wholesale contributed to the weakness.

The average cost of all grade slaughter steers at $26.50 was the lowest in 10 weeks and compared with $26.63 last week. A year ago it was $23.34.

Spring slaughter lambs closed fully 50 cents lower.

Solo Voyage One Of Fear, Loneliness

then that I wasn't going to reach Hawaii in time to see Sandy and Barbara. I knew they couldn't wait longer than July 22. They'd flown over and were in Honolulu with Al, and I began to feel bad that I wouldn't reach there before they left.

I think I lost something between 20 and 25 pounds those first two or three weeks of the voyage, but I gained about 10 pounds back before I reached Hawaii.

July 2 was a big day at sea for me. Unfortunately, I had no one or anything to share it with. I'd taken along my pet Thailand turtle but she died 14 days out. I had a burial at sea for her. It was very sad. She represented a living thing on board. During the voyage I never saw another boat. The last plane I saw circled me about 160 miles off the California coast.

I didn't even see many birds. They weren't so crazy as to be out in that sort of weather. It was overcast all the way.

But on July 2 we — the boat and I — found the trade winds which carry you to Hawaii. I had my Fourth of July celebration two days early.

By July 6, after four days of steady progress, and realizing I could average 27 miles a day, I spent hours calculating "Was it still possible that I could arrive before July 22?" I wrote in my log, "I know if the winds stay with me now, it is still possible."

I wrote in my log my estimated time of arrival, "July 21st at 2 a.m."

I was actually offshore — off Oahu Island — at 11 p.m. on the 20th, three hours ahead of my ETA. I was very proud.

But before that, at 9 a.m. that day, I sighted land for the first time.

It was Molokai, and before me was my last rest. I had been warned before leaving that the Molokai Channel, leading to Honolulu, was one of the two roughest stretches of water facing me. Of the two, this could be the roughest and the most dangerous.

I became dark. I saw lights, but couldn't identify them with my chart due to the low overcast. It was ironic that after following Hugh McDonald's (My navigation instructor) teaching so well throughout the 39 days that I was having trouble in the final stretch.

I passed Kokohead and Diamond Head without fully realizing it.

In the darkness, distance is deceptive and when I came upon two channel marker lights I knew I was too close to the reef.

I had been warned about attempting to navigate through the reefs and into the harbor on my own. I knew, too, that I was too close and it was at this point that I decided to fire my "Very" pistol.

I loaded it, but I didn't do it properly. The gun backfired on me, hurting my right wrist. I thought the wrist was broken. It might as well have been because it swelled up and I couldn't use it. I was in great pain and I knew that even if I wanted to I couldn't handle the boat and bring her into harbor.

What was worse, nobody saw the flare.

Shortly after dawn, this was the 40th day, I saw the fishing boat Catherine S., and I can tell you, it took me time to pluck up sufficient courage to fire that pistol again.

The thought went through my mind, "Suppose I damage my left arm as well." I was almost helpless as it was. I couldn't handle the Sea Sharp. But I fired my second flare and the Catherine S., came alongside.

The skipper called the Coast Guard.

At 11:45 a.m. a Coast Guard towline was secured to my boat and I knew my long voyage was at its end.

quest, to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, succeeding the late Adlai E. Stevenson. The Senate confirmed his nomination Friday, and Gold-berg will be sworn in at a White House ceremony Monday morning.

In Washington, Bill House press secretary, White D. Moyers said the President hoped to get in some swimming and some bowling. Moyers went on to add that last week the President scored 165 at bowling.

Moyers also gave newsmen a summary of things he said the President has been doing at Camp David.

He included:

—He asked Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze for an up-to-date report on planning to handle the administrative load that will be required to take care of medical care for the elderly and expanded Social Security.

—The President studied a report from Chairman Gardner Ackley of the Council of Economic Advisers on the impact of excise tax cuts, particularly as they have affected buying of automobiles and air conditioners.

—He reviewed reports from the Budget Bureau on progress made in cost reduction and studied reports showing progress made in Congress during the last week or so. Moyers said the President told him he was "particularly pleased by the flow of action in Congress during the past week."

Johnson arrived at Camp David late Friday, accompanied by Goldberger and his wife, and several members of his staff.

Arrest Man Connected In Slaying

Ryan, a former FBI agent, had served for a number of years in Southeast Asia. He returned only last week from home leave.

Police sources had said from the beginning of the investigation that they believed the motive for the shooting was personal. They said there was no evidence to link it with a Viet Cong terrorist plot.

Friends said Mrs. Hai and the bald, bespectacled Kimball had been close friends. Police said the apparent motive for the killing was revenge. They didn't say for what.

Ryan leaves a wife and two children. They are not in Saigon.

Kimball's wife, Rose, and a son, Kim, 7, live in Salt Lake City, where he had formerly worked for the Utah Highway Department as a design engineer. He joined AID in June 1963 and left for Viet Nam the next month. His work included installing radio communication systems in South Viet Nam's villages.

About three weeks ago, Premier Nguyen Cao Ky's government issued new rules to discourage fraternization between Americans and Vietnamese women.

In Salt Lake City, Mrs. Kimball said she and her husband had been estranged since shortly before he left for Viet Nam. "But he writes, you know," she said.

"Tell his son about what he's doing," she described Kimball, a veteran of Korea and a major in the Utah National Guard Special Forces before he went to Viet Nam, as "very emotional."

"He was very active and very involved with his mission in Viet Nam," she said. "He helped care for the wounded in that bombing at the American Embassy."

Litchfield Scores 9-7 Colt Loop Edge

Jacksonville rallies in the final two innings to defeat the Colts 9-7 in a game that was a pitchers' duel for much of the afternoon. Litchfield used a seven-run explosion in the fifth frame to score a 9-7 victory over the local Colt Loop Edge. The game was the opening game of the District 3 tourney at Nichols Park Saturday evening.

The two clubs met again to night at 6 p.m., and again at 8 p.m. In the best of three series for the right to advance to the Springfield Sectional.

Four costly errors by Jacksonville opened the door to the seven runs by Litchfield in the fifth. What had been a 2-2 tie was turned in favor of the visitors.

Still not out of the game, the local stars rallied for three in the sixth and two more in the seventh before Litchfield cut the en-run explosion in the fifth frame to score a 9-7 victory.

Powell's Home Run Tips Twins Again 3-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Boog Powell's leadoff homer in the eighth inning broke a 1-1 tie and the Baltimore Orioles went on to a 3-1 victory over the American League-leading Minnesota Twins Saturday night.

Powell whipped his eighth home run of the year 410 feet over the center field fence opening the eighth against Bill Pleis, the Twins' fourth pitcher.

Later in the eighth, Jerry Adair walked and scored all the way from first on relief pitcher Dick Hall's long double.

The Orioles had tied the score in the sixth on a single by Norm Siebern, a sacrifice and Powell's single to left.

Minnesota scored its run in the fifth on Joe Nassek's double and Zoilo Versalles' single.

It was the Orioles' second straight victory over the Twins and left runner-up Baltimore 2½ games back of Minnesota.

Ryun's Injury Should Not Keep Him From Meet

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Miller Jim Ryun's injured knee won't keep him from competing against the Russians next Saturday, unless "the boy himself decides he cannot run," Brutus Hamilton, coach of the U.S. team said Saturday.

"Unless the injury is more serious than I think, he should be in shape for the Russian meet," said Hamilton as the team left for New York.

The 18-year-old Ryun, a June graduate from Wichita East High School, ran third in 4:10.4 Friday night as the 44-member U.S. team held a warmup meet. After the race his knee was packed in ice.

J. D. Edmiston, Ryun's high school coach, said the knee had bothered Ryun ever since his return from a track trip to Jamaica a week ago.

Ryun said he did not know just when he injured his knee. The young runner has run up times of 3:55.3, 3:56.8, 3:58.1 and 3:58.3 within the last two months. Friday night's mile was won by Morgan Groth of Martinez, Calif., in 4:02.2. George Young, Silver City, N.M., was second in 4:02.5.

Randy Matson, who has a pending world shot put record of 70 feet, 7 inches, had a heave of 65.2.

The team will work out in New York Sunday and Monday and will fly to Moscow Tuesday. The meet is in Kiev July 13-Aug. 1.

Everybody laughed recently when mild-mannered Minnesota Twins manager Sam Mele socked an umpire during a field argument.

Except Bill Valentine. He was the umpire.

But then, umps are used to being in the minority... they have fewer friends than a dance instructor with halitosis. Twice a month they get a paycheck and a Purple Heart.

Worst part for the arbirer, however, is that the incidents are usually as one-sided as a lynching.

In the Mele melee, for example, Sam had everything going for him but a howitzer. He's head taller than Valentine and had two dozen players and 30,000 spectators on his side.

Afterwards, Mele pleaded temporary amnesia and claimed he couldn't remember throwing a punch. Everybody laughed at that, too.

Hambo Favorite Entered In Fair Review Futurity

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Stanley Dancer, annually one of the leading race winners and money winners in harness racing, will start Noble Victory, the Hambletonian favorite and his stablemate Egyptian Candor in the historic Review Futurity for three-year-old trotters here on Wednesday, August 18. The purse is $25,000 Est.

The Review stakes will highlight the fifth of six racing days (August 13-August 19) during the State Fair. The lucrative Illinois State Fair Colt Stakes providing the richest day in racing anywhere on Monday, August 16 and the Grand Circuit races of Tuesday, August 17 and Wednesday, August 18 are stand-out events.

Dancer advised H. W. (Hube) Elliott, superintendent of speed, that he would ship his two brilliant three-year-olds Noble Victory and Egyptian Candor here. A third Review eligible All-Aflame will remain in the east.

In a recent start at Saratoga the Victory Song colt was apparently rattled by two recalls and went off stride at the start of a stake race. Trailing by twelve lengths the powerful colt not only got the lead but went on to win by two and a half quarter lengths in 2:02 2/5ths.

As a two-year-old Noble Victory owned by K. D. Owen, of Houston, Texas earned $141,163 while winning 18 of 19 races for Dancer. His fastest mile was in 2:00.

Dancer will also start Bonjour Hanover in the $8,000 Breeders Pilly Stake on Tuesday, August 17 and American Adios in the $25,000 Little Pat Stake on Wednesday, August 18.

Opposing Noble Victory and Egyptian Candor will be Walter T. Candler's Atlanta Georgia (Del Miller), Castleton Farm's Nimble Boy (Ralph Baldwin), A. C. Mudge's Marengo Hanover (Ed Wheeler), Near Me (Joe O'Brien) and Mrs. Patricia Williams' Davey Hanover (John Simpson).

Among other top drivers who will appear at Springfield are: John Patterson, Jim Dennis, Lofly Bruce, Lou Rapone, Howard Beissinger, Del Insko, Clarence Martin, Bob Farrington, Don Busse, Gene Riegler, Bob Williams, Benny Schue and Bob Parkinson.

FORMER CHAMPION DIES IN SHOOTING

LONDON (AP) — Freddie Mills, former world champion light heavyweight boxer, died early Sunday from a gunshot wound, police reported.

He was shot down in the street near his night club in London's Charing Cross Road shortly after 1 a.m.

He was rushed to Middlesex Hospital but was dead on arrival.

Mills, 46, was a one-fight champion, winning the title from Gus Lesnevich in London, July 26, 1948, and losing it to Joey Maxim in his first defense, also in London, Jan. 24, 1950.

Mills never fought outside England, and turned down reported offers of $25,000 and $30,000 to fight Harold Johnson in Philadelphia, and another offer of $80,000 to meet Lesnevich in Cincinnati.

Tigers Deal Chisox 6th Loss In Row 7-4

DETROIT (AP) — Home runs by Norm Cash, Bill Freehan and Al Kaline paced the Detroit Tigers to their fifth straight victory Saturday, a 7-4 win over the Chicago White Sox. The loss was the White Sox' sixth in a row.

Cash's homer with one on highlighted a four-run first inning as the Tigers routed Chicago starter Joe Horlen.

Detroit's long-range bombing offset a fine batting performance by Pete Ward, who rapped five hits for the White Sox.

Dave Wickersham, with relief help from three pitchers, won his second game this week, bringing his record to 3-8.

Finals Today In Tennis Tournament

The finals of the Jacksonville City Championship Tennis Tournament Senior division will be held today, with Manuel Velasco and Bill Kauffmann squaring off for the men's singles prize at 2:30.

One doubles match will be held in the morning, with the finals in the men's doubles to be staged at 5 p.m., and the senior women's singles title match set at 2:30.

In Saturday afternoon action Kauffmann downed Tom Christison, 6-1, 8-6, for the final berth against JHS tennis coach Velasco, who played his semi-final match last week.

In doubles play the team of Dick Casler and John Wellman finally took Bob Bradney and John Hinde, 9-7, 7-5, in a narrow match played in close to 100 degree weather.

A semi-final match in the men's doubles will be held at 10:30 a.m. today, with Jim Coultas-Bob Hamm taking on Velasco-Chip Baldwin in a semi-final trial. The winners will meet Casler-Wellman at 5 p.m. for the top prize in that bracket.

Barb Curtis and Linda Farrell meet in the title match of the Women's division, also at 2:30.

Trophies will be awarded immediately following the matches by the JOURNAL COURIER, sponsors of the event.

Bunning Fans 12 In Two-Hitter For 5-1 Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Jim Bunning fired a two-hitter and struck out 12 while Wes Covington and Dick Stuart led the Philadelphia attack Saturday in a 5-1 victory over the New York Mets.

Bunning, running his record to 11-7, had trouble only with Johnny Lewis, who singled for the first New York hit in the second and homered in the fourth. The only other Met to reach base was Chuck Hiller, on a walk in the third.

Covington singled across two runs in the first, homered in the fourth and doubled in the sixth for a 3-for-3 afternoon. Stuart smacked a homer following Covington's double.

MAXWELL FOUR UP IN LADIES GOLF

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — Susie Maxwell of Oklahoma City conquered the heat, humidity and the Cloverbrook Country Club's course again Saturday with a six-under-par 66 for a four-stroke lead in the Buckeye Savings Association Ladies' Pro Golf Tournament.

Her round, a competitive course record for women over Cloverbrook's 6,200-yard par 36-72 layout, went with Friday's 67 for a 36-hole total of 133. She was 11 under par.

Kathy Whitworth of San Antonio, Tex., the tour's leading money winner for 1965, made a run at Miss Maxwell's lead but ran afoul of lake trouble on the 527-yard 17th and wound up with a 67 for second with 70-67-137.

Miss Whitworth, suffering from a bad drive on the seventh and a bad chip shot off the eighth, admitted four strokes was a major handicap to overcome in Sunday's final 18 holes for the $1,500 top prize.

Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex., went four under par with a 68 for third place with 72-68-140.

City Power Plays Pair Away Today

Jacksonville City Power will play their final away game of the Little Eight League season today when they travel to Williamsville for a doubleheader.

The locals carry a 2-7 mark after dropping a pair to Taylorville last week, while Williamsville stands 1-8 in Little Eight League play.

Probable starters for the City Power team will be Bob Gay, a 7-4 loser at Taylorville last Sunday, and Gordon Elmore, with Fred Curtis and Bill Williams to relief.

Going into today's games City Power has three batters hitting well over .300, Rich Webster, .370; Dale Edge, .368; and Gordon McFarland, .363.

Following today's games City Power will close out their league season with a pair of twin-bills at Nichols Park the next weeks, against Springfield and Florence.

The team will leave at 12:00 from the Drexel.

Brave's Errors Paves Giant Way To 4-2 Margin

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Willie Mays reached first base on an error, then came all the way around with the tying run on two more errors, sparking San Francisco to a 4-2 triumph over Milwaukee Saturday.

Mays got aboard in the sixth inning on a fielding error by shortstop Woody Woodward. Pitcher Hank Fischer tried to pick Mays off first, but his throw was wild and Mays raced to third.

Then, Mays got up and dashed home as second baseman Frank Bolling, who had retrieved Fischer's throw along the right field line, threw past Ed Mathews at third.

One out later, Tom Haller hit a homer off Fischer.

The Giants added another run in the seventh on a double by Dick Schofield and a two-out single by Ken Henderson, who replaced Mays in center field after Mays re-bruised the right hip he damaged before the All-Star break in a spectacular plate slide in Philadelphia.

Senator Homers Allow 9-2 Edge Over Athletics

WASHINGTON (AP) — Don Lock blazed a pair of home runs and Willie Kirkland contributed a three-run homer as the Washington Senators routed the Kansas City Athletics 9-2 Saturday.

Washington's Phil Ortega gave up two more homers, making 26 for the season off the ex-Dodger, but he coasted to his 11th victory and fifth in a row, giving up six hits. He has lost eight games.

Ken Hamlin's double touched off a two-run first inning against Rollie Sheldon, and Kirkland's 11th homer highlighted a four-run second.

Lock hit his 10th homer with one on in the third inning and bounced one off the leftfield foul pole in the fifth.

Dick Green led off the fourth with his 12th home run, and Bill Bryan connected in the fifth.

CARDINALS SELL WARWICK
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Carl Warwick, who tied a World Series record with three pinch-hits in 1964 for the St. Louis Cardinals, has been sold to the Baltimore Orioles, the Cardinals announced Saturday.

Warwick, a first baseman-outfielder, was sold for slightly more than the waiver price of $20,000. He is batting .158.

St. Louis called up Ted Savage from their Jacksonville, Fla., farm team to replace Warwick on the roster. Savage, an outfielder, has stolen 32 bases in 85 games at Jacksonville.

Player's 7 -Under, 64 Boosts Match Lead

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Open champion Gary Player shot a seven-under-par 64 over the Lakewood Country Club course Saturday and took a 16-stroke lead after three rounds of the National Challenge Match.

Player had a 54-hole total of 196 and played the last 36 holes in 127 strokes. He shot a 63 Friday.

For the three rounds, Player has 17 birdies and an eagle and only two bogies. One of his bogies came on the second hole Saturday. With a par there he would have matched his 63 of Friday and would have broken the course record.

U.S. amateur champion Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., is Player's nearest challenger, having a 54-hole total of 212 following a 69 Saturday.

Arnold Palmer shot a one-under-par 70, giving him 213 for the three rounds. Jack Nicklaus shot 66 and tied amateur Dean Beman of Bethesda, Md., for fourth place at 214. Beman shot 72. Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., also shot 66, giving him 216 for the 54 holes.

Player was so far in front of Palmer, there appeared no chance of Palmer's catching him in the race for the $20,000 first prize.

Player shot 33 on the front nine of the 6,834-yard par 35-36 —71 course and came back in 31. He birdied the last three holes.

Viridon, Clemente Homers Beat Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Bill Viridon and Roberto Clemente slammed bases-empty homers while lighting Gene Alley ripped off three straight hits, including a pair of doubles, leading Pittsburgh to an 8-5 victory over the Chicago Cubs Saturday.

Viridon's second homer of the season in the third lifted the Pirates into a 2-2 tie. Clemente's homer in the fifth snapped a 3-3 tie and triggered a game-winning, three-run rally capped by Alley's two-run double.

Alley doubled home a run in the second, singled in the fourth and sent starter Larry Jackson tumbling to his 13th loss against eight triumphs with his double in the fifth.

The pirates' Vernon Law brought his record to 10-9 but needed relief help from Al McBean in the eighth after Don Landrum led off with a single and Billy Williams clouted his

Gosger's Homer Powers Red Sox Past Angels, 8-5

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Red Sox survived crippling injuries to two pitchers and snapped a five-game losing streak by belting the Los Angeles Angels 8-5 Saturday with the help of a three-run homer by rookie Jim Gosger.

Dennis Bennett, a lame-shoulder southpaw, picked up his third victory by checking the Angels after starter Bill Monbouquette retired with a pulled groin muscle at the start of the third inning and Bob Jeffner was helped off the field with a pulled ligament in his left knee in the fifth.

The Red Sox scored four runs against Chance, who allowed only four hits but surrendered seven walks in 5 2/3 innings.

Boston nailed down the decision in a four-run seventh, capped by Gosger's homer. The homer was his fourth since he was called up from Toronto of the International League July 9. Los Angeles 100 110 011—5 10 Boston 010 201 0x—8 9 0

Port Wine Cops Juvenile Trial

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Port Wine won the hectic scramble of the 2-year-olds Saturday by a length in the $156,500 Hollywood Juvenile Championship.

Tri third in the rush of 14 youngsters to the finish line as a crowd of more than 57,000 at first cheered and then groaned in sympathy.

Royal Jr., one of the three invaders from the East, broke down near the end, apparently snapping a bone in his left front leg.

Later it was announced that Royal Jr. was destroyed. He reportedly was insured for $50,000.

There was a length between the first three finishers and the favorite, Royal House, after dominating the early running faded and fell back to fourth.

The time for the six furlongs was 1:10 1-5.

Port Wine, with jockey Bill Shoemaker registering his second victory in this classic for the 2-year-olds, is owned by C. V. Whitney, whose Rattle Dancer won this race several years ago.

The victory was worth $111,500 to Whitney's stable.

Port Wine, the second choice in wagering, paid $7.20, $4.60 and $3.80.

Ri Tux, ridden by Jerry Lambert and owned by Las Vegas sportsman J. K. Houssels, paid $19.20 and $9.40. Flame Tree, with Bobby Ussery up, returned $5.20.

DOUG ATKINS FINED
RENNSSALEAR, Ind. (AP)—Chicago Bears' end Doug Atkins was notified Saturday that tardiness in reporting to the Bears' summer training camp is costing him $100 a day.

Owner George Halas said that Atkins, of Knoxville, Tenn., has been AWOL since 10 a.m. July 23, the deadline for team veterans to check in at the National Football League team's camp.

Rabbit season will begin at sunrise, Monday, Nov. 22, and end at sunset, Monday, Jan. 31, 1966. Hunting hours are from sunrise until sunset every day of the season. Hunters may take five rabbits per day and have 10 rabbits in possession after opening day. On opening day both the daily and possession limits are five rabbits.

Who Says AL Is A Pushover? Not So Says Bosox' Mantilla

By TOM TIEDE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK — (NEA) — There are some days you just can't pick a fight now.

Like the sports writer who was trying to provoke Felix Mantilla into admitting the American League is a softer touch than the National and was abruptly shot down.

Mantilla (pronounced ManTE-eyah) seemed a natural. In six years with Milwaukee and one with New York in the National League, he hardly batted his eyelash—a piddling .245 for the route with an average of 19 RBI a season.

Felix Mantilla

But then he got lucky. The NL discarded him. When Boston of the American side picked him up in 1963, Felix flexed his fungo: .315 the first year, .289 the second and, in the third, he's among the circuit All Stars, well over .300.

Ergo, the American is easier than the National. Yes?

"No," says the coffee-colored clouter. "I don't think so."

Are you sure, Felix, that you're just not afraid of admitting your average has gone up as the caliber of pitching you've faced has gone down?

"Look, American League pitching is every bit as good as National League."

Who, for instance, is as good as Sandy Koufax or Juan Marchal?

"That left-hander from Cleveland (Sam McDowell) is, and Jim Kaat (Twins), or Ed Fisher (White Sox), Milt Pappas (Orioles) — and there are others."

How good are they, really? "When they're on, the only way you hit them is by accident."

Felix Iamela Mantilla, 30, is a fresh-scrubbed chap, who looks as if he is groomed by cow licks. His smile is almost as wide as his nose and he seems forever trying to stretch it further with exercise. Pleasant he is, and partisan. After finally escalating to star billing, he flatly refuses to give anyone (or league) but himself credit for becoming a top banana.

Says he: "It's very easy to explain why I'm better in the American League. I'm better because I'm now playing more and, doing that, I'm improving with experience."

"At Milwaukee I played only off and on. Same with the Mets. If I had a bad day—zero for four or something—I'd usually have to wait days to be able to make up for it. With the Red Sox, however, I'm playing every day—and if I go one afternoon there is always a tomorrow to smooth it over. Regular play is what does it."

That's what they all say, Felix.

"O.K., I'll admit one thing about the two leagues. I think there may be a difference after the first four teams. The top clubs are about equal each year but, generally, I think you could say that the National has a stronger second division."

Any reason?

"Maybe because the NL has more good colored players. The American has some good colored people but not nearly so many. It stands to reason they have a better chance at grabbing nine superior players."

You're saying the AL is prejudiced?

"Naw, man, none of that. Maybe they just don't have as good scouts. I don't know. But the Americans are definitely boys."

Except for Felix Mantilla?

"Well, I'm having a fair year all right. But I wish the club was winning more. One thing about Milwaukee, I got in on two World Series checks there."

Maybe you'd like to be traded to a contender. Say, the Dodgers?

"What, and have to go back to the National League?"

Aha!

Pia Star Upsets Mighty Kelso In Brooklyn Trial

NEW YORK (AP) — Pit Star, a speedster from start to finish, tossed a roadblock in Kelso's bid for a sixth straight Horse of the Year title as he won the $107,200 Brooklyn Handicap at Aqueduct Saturday with a clocking of 2:00 3/5 for the 1¼ miles.

Kelso, the grand old man of the thoroughbreds, couldn't even salvage second place in his first major start of the year. He had to be content with third in the five-horse field as little Roman Brother came up for second, two lengths back of Pia Star.

It was another two lengths back to Kelso, with Quadrangle fourth and Repeating last.

Pia Star, who jumped into national prominence June 19 by matching the world record of 1:33 1/5 in the Equippoise Mile at Arlington Park, earned $69,880 for Mrs. Ada L. Rice of Chicago. He now has won his last four races for a record of five wins in nine starts this year.

The son of Olympia-Inquisitive, the stablemate of Kentucky Derby winner Lucky Debonaire, paid $7.20, $3.60 and $2.40 to his backers in the crowd of 49,028.

Roman Brother, carrying the silks of Lou Wolfson's Harborview Farms, returned $3.40 and $2.40. Kelso, racing for Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Bohemia Stable, was $2.20 to show after going off the 6-5 favorite.

Kelso earned $10,720 for his third place. Second place was worth $21,440.

Johnny Sellers was aboard Pia Star for his third stakes triumph in four days. He previously took the great American at Aqueduct Wednesday with Our Michael and then flew to California to win the Hollywood Oaks Thursday with Straight Deal.

I. H. Thompson of Jacksonville captured a photo finish victory with his horse Tom Havens, a four-year-old pacer, at Carlinville Friday night. Thompson's win came by a neck over Daniel, driven by M. Fitzpatrick of Springfield in the seven-horse race.

Roy Evans, a Jacksonville trainer, won his race at the Martinsville Fair with his trotter Queens Jungfrau, also Friday.

Redlegs Win 2 Games In Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Looking like the defending state champions for one of the few times this year, the Jacksonville State Hospital Redlegs pounded out 24 hits in sweeping a twin-bill here Saturday night, 9-1 over the Springfield Hawks, and 15-1 over the Muncy League All-Star team.

Jack McNeely pitched a four-hitter against the Hawks, league-leaders in Springfield, and Bob Vinyard followed with a nifty three-hitter and struck out 14 in the nightcap in a game that was supposed to go nine but was called after seven.

In the second game Jacksonville broke a scoreless tie with five in the third, then poured it on with six in the fourth and three more in the fifth.

Bob Speaks went three for five in the second game, while Tom Stander collected five hits in nine trips for the night, and Fred Curtis went four-for-seven on the evening.

The Redlegs now bring a 16-22 record home for a twinbill against Alton North Side Boosters this evening.

BETTER HALF
NEW YORK — (NEA) — Believe it or not, there are recorded cases of 299½ games in the annals of league bowling.

Fellow named James T. Blackstone was the first credited — on Feb. 11, 1905, in Seattle, Wash. Then, in 1935, a Brooklyn, N. Y., bowler named Guy Wyatt equaled the feat.

Both had 11 strikes going into the 12th frame, and both knocked them all down but one on the roll. Only half of the remaining pin remained standing in each instance, however: large chunks were split away by the force of the balls.

No one remembers what happened to Blackstone, but Wyatt died two weeks later. Presumably from a broken heart.

SWIMMING TALK: These three swimmers discuss the day's events during a break in a meet at Nichols Park Saturday morning. L-r are Judy Eckerstrom, a triple winner from the Springfield Sun N' Fun team, Larie McCulloch, youngest (8) member of the Nichols Park team, and Andy Applebee, a three-time winner for the local outfit. Springfield won the meet, 182-172.

Remind Hunters Of Duck Blind Sites Sign-Up

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Hunters who had blinds in navigation Pools 21, 22 and 24 in the Mississippi River may register their sites on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 14 and 15, William T. Lodge, director of the Illinois Department of Conservation, announced Saturday.

Sites in Pool 21 and sites in that portion of Pool 22 in Adams County are to be registered at the Sid Simpson State Park, Quincy. Sites located in the Pike County portion of Pool 22 and sites in Pool 24 are to be registered at the Pike Novelty Station five miles west of Alton on U.S. Route 54. Hours for the registration are from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. p.m. CDT.

Duck hunters who had blinds in Pools 25 and 26 on the Mississippi River and lower Illinois Rivers, including the Batchtown, Stump Lake, Godard-Diamond Island, Calhoun Point and Red's Landing Management Areas may re-register their sites Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 14 and 15, and from Friday through Sunday, Aug. 20, 21 and 22, at the Mississippi River Fish and Wildlife Management Headquarters on Illinois Route 100, ½ mile east of Pere Marquette State Park Lodge. Hours for this registration are from 9 a.m. until 6 p.m. CDT.

Only hunters who had blinds in these areas last year may register for 1965. A hunter may register for himself and a maximum of two partners but he must have his and his partners' 1965 hunting licenses with him. Blind sites that are not registered on the above dates are forfeited.

Hunters who do not have blinds, but want one, must register to be eligible for a drawing to allocate the new and unclaimed blinds on the above areas and also on the 12-Mile Island and Hurricane Island Areas. Registrants must be at least 16 years old and must have a 1964 or 1965 hunting license in their possession at the registration. They also must be present at the drawing which will be held on Sunday, Aug. 22, starting at 6 p.m. CDT, at the Mississippi River Fish and Waterfowl Management Headquarters Building on Illinois Route 100, ½ mile east of the Pere Marquette State Park Lodge.

Duck hunters who want duck blinds in Mississippi navigation Pools 12, 13 and 14, located in Jo Daviess, Carroll and White County, do not have to register their blinds with the county conservation officer as they have been required to do in past years.

This does not apply to blinds in the Potter's Marsh and Savanna Ordinance Depot areas. All blinds must be at least 150 yards apart. This regulation will be strictly enforced. Hunters may select their sites and begin construction of their blinds as soon as they wish. Copies of the regulations will be available from the county conservation officers and at access points in each pool.

A public drawing will be held at the Lazy River Marina, north of Savanna, starting at 2 p.m. CDT, Saturday, Aug. 7, for blind sites in Potter's Marsh and the Savanna Ordinance Areas. Hunters must register between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. CDT to be eligible for the drawing. Applicants for the drawing must be 16 years old, must have a 1964 or 1965 hunting license in their possession, and must be present at the drawing. Regulations pertaining to the Potter's Marsh and Ordinance Areas will be explained before the drawing.

There are still tickets for the stock car races. They may be secured by calling, writing or visiting the State Fair ticket office in the grandstand at the fairgrounds.

Reserved seats are $3 and box seats, $4.

U.S. Swimmers Continue To Make Bigger Splash In Record Assaults

NEW YORK — (NEA) — If summer, the least surprised will be Dr. James Counsilman, last year's Olympic coach.

"The continual improvement can be attributed to a combination of many factors," Counsilman says.

"In the 1920s, during Johnny Weismuller's era, there were probably less than 1,000 swimmers training seriously in the United States. Today there are over 500,000 competitive swimmers training in some type of organized program. This number probably exceeds the total number of swimmers training in all of the rest of the countries of the world."

"During the 1920s and '30s, the swimmer trained by swimming long distances at a relatively slow pace, frequently covering one or two miles of continuous swimming in each day while preparing for a 100-yard or 200-yard race."

"The logic behind this type of workout was obviously that if you were in good enough shape to swim a mile continuously at a slow pace, you were also in shape to swim a 100 or 200-yard race at a fast pace."

"Today the swimmer's training consists of swimming a series of relatively short distances at a relatively fast speed with a controlled rest period between these 'repeat' swims."

"This type of training is referred to as interval swimming or repetition training, depending upon the amount of rest permitted between the repeat swims."

"This type of training was borrowed from the track men. The logic behind it seems very sound: the body attempts to adapt to the specific stress placed upon it. If the swimmer trains at long distances at a slow pace, he will adapt his body specifically to the stress of swimming long distances at a slow pace."

"If he wishes to condition himself to swim fast, he must train at a speed close to the speed he wishes to use in the race."

"Most of our knowledge of training for swimming has developed through a haphazard trial-and-error method. Our concepts of training are still vague and most of us are searching for some scientific principles on which we can begin to base our training techniques."

In the meantime, the American swimmers seem to be doing fine.

Will the Plymouth and Dodge be able to maintain their superiority over the Fords on the big dirt oval?

The Springfield race will be the first such test on a mile dirt track for the late model stockers this year. Most of the other races have been on asphalt, with one or two exceptions on smaller tracks.

Nuxhall One-Hits Houston In Split

HOUSTON (AP) — Joe Nuxhall pitched hitless ball for 7 1/3 innings and wound up with a one-hitter as Cincinnati gained a split of a day-night doubleheader against the Houston Astros Saturday, winning the night game 2-0.

Don Nottebart had pitched six innings of no-hit ball in the opener and finished with a three-hitter and a 4-2 victory for the Astros.

Nuxhall, who was the youngest major league player ever when he pitched for the Reds at the age of 15 in 1944, struck out 11 batters, including five in a row at one stretch. He fanned Frank Thomas four times.

The 37-year-old southpaw's bid for a no-hitter was broken by Bobby Lillis, who singled sharply to center with one out in the eighth. Until Lillis' hit, Nuxhall had allowed only three base runners, two on walks and one on a hit batsman.

The Reds broke a scoreless tie in the eighth when Pete Rose's triple drove in Leo Cardenas and Tommy Harper, who had reached on singles.

This is the time of year every pro football coach looks his rookies over carefully because he doesn't want to miss a Mick Tingelhoff. That isn't one of the Katzenjammer kids. Tingelhoff is merely the best offensive center operating in football today, and he was picked up a mere three seasons ago by the Minnesota Vikings as a free agent, when every team in Canada and the United States had passed him by.

The Vikings can thank Harry Gilmer for Mick. Harry, now the head coach of the Detroit Lions, was assigned to Nebraska for scouting purposes when he worked at Minnesota. And Tingelhoff was an obscure center for the Cornhuskers.

Gilmer checked the films of a Nebraska spring training camp four years ago because of a back the Vikings were particularly high on. "Heck with the back," said Gilmer after a couple of reels. "Who's the kid at center?"

He was told by the school's coaches that it was Tingelhoff, and pronouncing his name right was about the only recommendation they could make for him as a pro.

"I wasn't impressed either," recalls Gilmer. "When I saw him in person, he's baby-faced and square-hipped and doesn't look as though he could move. When his coaches wouldn't speak up for him . . . well, nobody drafted him. Not even us."

But after the '61 crop of collegians had been thoroughly picked over, without Tingelhoff, Gilmer kept remembering those films and persuaded the Vikings to sign him. Mick came in unannounced and was tried as a middle linebacker on defense. They also worked him as an alternate center and in the second exhibition game he started on offense. He has started every game since, made the Pro Bowl last year, and a recent poll of NFL coaches rates him on a par with Jim Ringo, a six-year all-pro, as the class pivot in the league.

Meanwhile, coach Weeb Ewbank of the Jets wishes some of his kids — like Joe Namath and John Huarte — were a little less known. "I wish they'd let 'em alone," says Weeb ruefully, "but that's part of the business."

And as for entrusting a team to rookie quarterbacks, here's how Weeb feels: "It's never been done, young quarterbacks taking you all the way. But if it could be done, these two kids are the ones to do it. In these kids I see the quickness of hands and feel you like. I've felt for two or three years Namath would be one of the best. We're not kidding ourselfs, though. It could be we're deferring ourselves one year. I know one thing — they won't be awed by big crowds."

When he was the coach of the Baltimore Colts, Weeb once had a rookie who came into the Stadium for the first time, looked around and exclaimed, "This place holds more people than our whole state." The kid was from North Dakota and was soon on his way back. . . .

Coach Bill Murray of Duke told Baltimore's Don Shula that rookie fullback Mike Curtis is the finest athlete he has ever coached. Curtis was originally labeled for linebacker until Shula found he had eight candidates running around the premises. . . .

Dutch Van Brocklin of the Minnesota Vikings, seeking to fortify his running depth behind Tommy Mason and Bill Brown, thinks he has a sleeper in Dave Osborn, a 200-pound speedster from North Dakota. . . .

Appoint Assistant To Ryan

Morgan county state's attorney Charles J. Ryan said Saturday that recent legislation allowing funds for an assistant state's attorney would be utilized here.

Ryan revealed that he wanted to delay in disclosing the name of the local attorney, who has been selected, until Monday because the person is out of town at the present.

House Bill 1503, approved by Governor Kerner Friday, will provide payment out of the state treasury for the annual salary of one assistant state's attorney in counties where a state mental institution is located.

The bill, which amends the Fees and Salaries Act, appropriates $249,000 to the auditor of public accounts.

Legislative Reason
Ryan said that the thinking behind the legislation dealt with a possible overflow of legal work by state's attorneys in counties where mental health institutions are located since the enactment of the new mental health code.

"This, however, has not been the case in Morgan county," Ryan commented. "My work, dealing with Jacksonville State hospital, has not been increased by the new health code, but apparently in some counties it has."

Since the inception of the mental health code July 1, 1964, magistrates Harry Timmons, Don McNamara and Richard Doyle have been handling commitment hearings on Tuesdays at the state hospital. Last Tuesday, McNamara ruled on nine such hearings.

Without Aid Now
Ryan disclosed that as of three months ago, the county has been without the service of an assistant state's attorney.

The position was formerly occupied by Larry Flynn.
Flynn served in the position drawing a $200 per month salary. "But when legislation removed the assistant state's attorney from a straight salary to a per diem basis, I felt it unfair to use the position," Ryan noted.

Ryan said he thought that the salary for the new position would be approximately $4,500 per year, and that the person would be used on a part-time basis, when needed.

Rev. Spriggs Assistant Pastor At Our Saviour's

The Reverend Robert W. Spriggs, S.T.L. has been appointed assistant pastor of Our Saviour Church here by Most Rev. William A. O'Connor, D.D., bishop of Springfield. Father Spriggs begins his duties Monday, July 26.

Rev. Robert W. Spriggs

Father Spriggs is 27 years of age. He was born and reared in Decatur, where he attended St. James School. After completing his high school studies and two years of college at St. Henry Preparatory Seminary in Belleville, he spent six years at St. Mary of the Lake Seminary, Mundelein, where he received his licentiate degree in sacred theology this year.

He was ordained to the priesthood in the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, Springfield, by Bishop O'Connor on May 22. For the past six weeks he has been engaged in census work for the Diocesan Rural Life Conference.

Father Spriggs succeeds the Rev. Stanley G. Milewski at Our Saviour Church. Father Milewski has been appointed pastor of the churches at Greenfield and Hagaman, effective Aug. 14.

Collect $3,000 For Parents Who Lost 7 Children

JERSEYVILLE — Donations in the amount of $3,040 have been turned over to Paul J. Taul and his wife, of Jerseyville, who lost their seven children in a fire early on the morning of July 9.

Following the tragic occurrence, a movement was begun to collect a fund for the benefit of the family, and donations were received by the local police department.

A great number of the donations were accompanied by sympathy cards or notes and letters of consolation to the bereaved parents.

At the time of the fire, the parents and Paul Jerome Jr. were sleeping downstairs.

The other six children, Susan Valerie, 10; Joyce Marie, 8; Patricia Ellen and Michael John, six year old twins; Jeffrey Allen, 3; and Clara Elizabeth, 2, were sleeping upstairs.

Approve Park Improvements
The Winchester Park Board met with the city council in a special meeting last week to make plans for a waterway and parking lot at the Winchester Swimming Pool.

The city council approved expenditure of $1,000 to be added to contributions from local organizations for the project.

It is estimated the project will cost $4,000 with the additional $3,000 expected from the park fund and donations from various local organizations.

Freese Brothers Construction Company will start work on the project in the near future.

Another recreational facility to be added is a new double tennis court which will be completed.

Students Aboard Seven Seas Never Realized Danger

Editor's Note: Stuart Hemphill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hemphill of 327 Lockwood, was a passenger on the Seven Seas, returning from a year's study in Stockholm, Sweden.

NEW YORK (AP) — Passengers from the disabled German liner Seven Seas that drifted in the Atlantic Ocean for three days finally made it to New York on Saturday.

The 12,575-ton ship lay dead in the North Atlantic after an engine room fire last Saturday crippled her main engines.

The Seven Seas later was taken in tow by the Dutch salvage tug, Terse Zee, and towed 60 miles to St. John's, Nfld., where the 400 passengers debarked Friday.

The steamship company chartered five planes to ferry the passengers, including 130 American students, to New York. The liner was en route here from Rotterdam when the fire broke out.

The first group of 86 passengers arrived at Kennedy Airport aboard an Eastern Air Lines plane.

Among the American exchange students aboard were nine Illinois high schoolers. They included:

Richard Babcock Jr., Woodstock; Stuart Hemphill, Jacksonville; Julia Higgins, Oak Park; Mary Knudson, Evergreen Park; Gordon Murray, Winnetka; Kenneth Pickard Jr., Lake Bluff; Ann Thomas, Woodbine; Melinda Vickrey, Flossmoor, and Philip Yocum, Decatur.

Many aboard appeared to have had a jolly time.

"There was absolutely no panic," said Karen Hastie, 20, daughter of Philadelphia's U.S. Court of Appeals Judge William Hastie.

Thought Bell Party
"We were sitting around in the lounge enjoying the festivities when the fire bell rang and we thought it was just part of the evening's entertainment."

"A few minutes later, crew members came and told us to put on our life jackets and go out on the decks. We sat outside for another hour and a half and then were told we could resume our activities. The band started playing... and people began dancing."

A group of students from Holland said one young crew member had the presence of mind to turn off the fuel and the generators when the fire broke out.

"He saved us," said Jan De Smet, of Amsterdam, a student. "Otherwise I believe there might have been an explosion."

Edith Brinkers, 18, of Zoetermeer, Holland, laughed gaily when questioned about the experience.

"The bell rang in the middle of a masquerade party," she said. "We all looked so funny with our awful faces and life jackets on that we didn't realize how serious it was."

"We slept in the swimming pool, on deck, on chairs," said another Dutch passenger, Eveline Bulk, 21, from Amsterdam. "The next day it looked like a refugee camp."

Plane Failure
Some of the passengers were delayed by a second emergency when a Nordair DC-4 carrying 60 of them to Kennedy airport landed at Halifax, N.S. International Airport after a failure in the plane's radio equipment.

Many of those arriving at Kennedy encountered long delays because their luggage had been sent on other planes.

Miss Hastie confirmed earlier reports from the ship that there was plenty of food and power from auxiliary generators, but said the ovens were out of operation for a day and a half.

"I never knew they could make so many boiled dishes," she said.

One student said, "There was no panic at all." But another, Marcia Williams, 17, of Hingham, Mass., said, "Quite a few of us were frightened and a passenger became hysterical."

We were told later there had been a 70 per cent chance of an explosion.

"On the whole it was fun," said Mary Van Bibber, 17, of Storrs, Conn. "We got to know each other better."

Michael Hull, 18, of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, sounded bored. "The voyage was kind of dull," he said. "There were not many activities and we were all anxious to get home."

Michael was the first student to go through customs. There was nothing but praise for the crew from dozens of passengers interviewed.

The family will meet friends at the funeral home from 7-9 p.m. Sunday.

Reservists Leave For Camp McCoy

Members of the local U. S. Army reserve unit left Jacksonville Saturday for two weeks of training at Camp McCoy, Wisconsin.

Fifty-five reservists of Company B, 3rd Battalion, 9th Infantry, including two officers, Captain William T. Douds and Lieut. Jan W. Coester, both of Springfield, will participate in military maneuvers for the next two weeks.

One busload of reservists left the U.S. Army reserve training headquarters on North West street at midnight, and were accompanied by eight cars, and one two and one-half ton army truck to the camp.

Local Firm Expands Area

Richard Yates Rowe, President of Central National Life Insurance Co., Jacksonville, Ill., announced today that the Jacksonville-based insurance company had received a certificate of authority to transact business in the State of Indiana.

Applications are pending in six additional states at the present time. Mr. Rowe stated that he felt this is the beginning of a second stage of the expansion program which is planned by Central National which will result in their being licensed in ten states.

At a recent sales meeting held in Jacksonville, the agency field force were introduced to all-new hospitalization and income protection plans and to the new life plans based upon the 1958 mortality tables.

The company official announced that for the first six months of 1965, life sales have increased 19.2% and health and accident sales have increased 13.2% over a corresponding period in 1964.

Reichert-Ivey

VIRGINIA — Miss Barbara Ann Ivey and Herman Gary Reichert were united in marriage Sunday afternoon, July eighteenth, at the Grace Lutheran church.

White gladioli adorned the altar where the Reverend L. W. Buss officiated. William Huffman was at the organ and Miss Hilma Ivey sang.

The bride is the daughter of the Darel Iveys and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reichert, all of Virginia.

Guests were seated by Jon Reichert of Beardstown, cousin of the groom and Eugene Williams of Alexander, cousin of the bride.

Miss Elsie Pettit of Philadelphia was maid of honor; Miss Carolyn Reichert, sister of the groom was bridesmaid and Miss Shelia Reichert, cousin of the groom, was the flowergirl.

Gregory Scholes, cousin of the groom, was best man and Tom Duerr of Washington, D.C. was groomsman.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon organza and lace with a touch train. Her veil of illusion fell from a crown of lace embellished with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rosebuds with ivy.

The attendants to the bride wore full length dresses of blue taffeta with matching color chiffon overlay. Each carried a lace fan with clusters of pink sweetheart roses. The little flowergirl wore a full length dress similar to the attendants' gowns. She carried a basket of rose petals.

The mother of the bride wore a blue sheath with lace bodice. Her accessories were white. The groom's mother wore blue lace over taffeta and white accessories. Both wore corsages of white rosebuds.

A reception was held at Rossi's restaurant in Virginia. Assisting were Mrs. Wendell Robson, Mrs. Richard Miller, Mrs. Elmer Carlson, Miss Patsy Reichert, Miss Mary Williams, Mrs. Charles Dillard and Miss Beverly Alcorn.

After a wedding trip to Washington, D.C. the couple will reside at 5805 Lisher Road, Apt. 101, Oxon Hill, Maryland.

The bride graduated this spring from Virginia High School where the groom was a member of the class of 1962. He attended Illinois College in Jacksonville and Springfield Junior College and is employed in Washington, D.C.

Among the special guests were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Charles, maternal grandparents of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Reichert, paternal grandparents of the groom and S. H. Williams, maternal grandfather of the bride.

Morey-Townslay

Miss Carol Lee Townslay of this city and Lloyd James Morey of Arizona were united in marriage Sunday, July eighteenth, at First Baptist church. The Reverend John Henschke performed the ceremony with the bride's father giving her in marriage.

Dr. Ralph H. Robbins was at the church organ and Miss Linda Crawford of Jerseyville sang.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Townslay, 811 West Douglas avenue and the groom is the son of Mrs. R. W. Hartman of Williams, Arizona and the late Fred C. Morey.

Miss Wanda VanWechel of Colorado Springs, Colorado was maid of honor; the bride's sister, Betty Jean, wife of Lyle D. Willard of Edwardsville, and another sister, Janet, wife of Walter W. Jurgens of Ashland, were bridesmaids.

William R. Townslay, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man and Mr. Willard and Mr. Jurgens were ushers.

The bride wore a chapel gown of white nylon organza and lace. Her mantilla headpiece of white illusion was edged with lace. She carried a cascade of white gladioli and fern centered with an orchid.

The bride's attendants wore ankle length frocks of white tulle and cotton with blue lace jackets. The matching crown headresses had brief veils, blue mitts and slippers completed the costumes. Each carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white spider mums.

The bride's mother wore a pink crepe and lace with white accessories and the groom's mother wore a two piece yellow linen costume with white accessories. Both mothers wore a white orchid.

At the reception held in the church's Fellowship Hall the following friends and relatives assisted: Hazel Fuller, aunt of the bride; Shirley Struck, Mrs.

Mrs. Richard J. Hicks

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. Hicks, who were married June 26th at St. Bruno's Catholic church in Pinckneyville, are making their home at 447 South East street.

The bride is the former Nancy Ann Middleton, daughter of the Lloyd Middletons of Pinckneyville and the groom is the son of Mrs. John Hicks of this city and the late Mr. Hicks.

Mr. Hicks is employed at Kordite and Mrs. Hicks is a teacher in the Murrayville school.

Margaret Friesner, sister of the groom, and Marva Fuller.

After a short honeymoon the newlyweds will be at home at 1633 West Missouri avenue in Phoenix, Arizona.

Mrs. Morey graduated from Illinois College and has taught in the elementary schools here the past three years. The groom, a graduate of Williams, Arizona high school, served six years in the U.S. Navy. He is employed by Engineered Sound, Inc. at Phoenix.

LaVonna Howard W. H. Read, Wed

Mrs. LaVonna Lee Howard and Wilburn H. Read, both of Jacksonville, were united in marriage Thursday afternoon, July 15.

The Rev. William J. Boston performed the double ring ceremony at his home, 903 North Church street.

The couple will make their home in Jacksonville.

Hough and Kraushaar

A mid-summer ceremony last Sunday afternoon, July eighteenth, at the Central Christian church united in marriage Lucinda Kay (Cindy) Kraushaar of Jacksonville and Jerry Lee Hough of Rock Island.

Flowers and greenery banked the church altar where the pastor, the Reverend William Sturgess officiated before friends and relatives of the couple.

Miss Mahala McGhee was at the organ and accompanied the soloist Mrs. Terry Newell of Carthage, Illinois.

The bride is the daughter of the Robert Kraushaars, No. Three Crampton Road and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Hough of Rock Island.

Miss Bobette Kraushaar was her sister's maid of honor; Mrs. William Mitchell of Geneseo, a sorority sister, was a bridesmaid and Miss Jan Hummel of Rochelle, also a sorority sister, was bridesmaid.

Michael Hickey of Rock Island was best man and Mark Hough, brother of the groom and Robert Hickman, both of Rock Island, were groomsmen.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a classic wedding gown of white silk organza over peau de soie, with Venise lace used on the dress and detachable shoulder train. A pearl crown held her blusher veil of silk illusion. She carried a cascade of Majestic daisies with stephanotis and ivy.

The bride's mother wore pink silk and lace with matching color accessories and the groom's mother was in white linen with gray embroidery. Both wore corsages of white roses.

At the reception held at the church the following friends assisted: Mrs. Terry Fritsch, Mrs. Michael Hartong, Miss Cindy Johnson, all sorority sisters of the bride, Mrs. Tom Lundgren and Mrs. Jerry Symons.

After a honeymoon in Wisconsin the newlyweds will be at home at 4415 1/2 Tenth avenue in Rock Island.

Mrs. Hough graduated from Jacksonville High School and received her degree from Western Illinois University, where she affiliated with Sigma Sigma, national social sorority. She will teach second grade at the Ridgewood School in East Moline this fall. The groom, a graduate of the Rock Island High School, served three years in the Marine Corps and is employed at Farmall International Harvester. He will attend Blackhawk Junior College in Moline this fall.

The rehearsal dinner served Saturday night at the Jacksonville Country Club was hosted by the parents of the groom.

Mrs. Dean Stanley Ashby

Ashby and Hildebrand

A former Jacksonville couple, Brenda Joyce Hildebrand and Dean Stanley Ashby of Decatur, were united in marriage July eighteenth, at the Central Christian church in that city.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. James C. Layton of Decatur and the late James R. Hildebrand. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Ashby of Decatur. Both families formerly lived in this city.

The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Paul E. Erickson, pastor of the First Evangelical Lutheran church at Decatur, where the couple hold memberships.

The bride's sister, Sharon, was maid of honor; Mrs. William Coberly of Decatur was bridesmatron and Miss Kay Riley, Decatur and Miss Nancie Boyle of Jacksonville, were bridesmaids. They wore identical short-sleeved seersucker crepe with matching satin ribbon trim. Crepe bow headresses with floral trim and nose veils completed their costumes.

Larry Frank, Bridgman and Osvaldo Brusa, Montevideo, Uruguay, were acolytes. The latter is an exchange student who has resided in the Beeskow home in East Lansing since December. He returned to his home this month.

A reception was held at the Trinity Lutheran Education

Building in Valparaiso following the ceremony.

The newlyweds are residing in St. Joseph, Michigan since returning from a wedding trip through Canada and into Buffalo, New York. Both the bride and groom graduated from Valparaiso. Mrs. Ott will teach in the Lakeshore school system, Stevensville, Michigan this fall. Mr. Ott also graduated from Lake Michigan College and is an accountant with the Whirlpool Corporation at Benton Harbor, Michigan.

Editorial Comment

Laws Are The Start

A resident of a northern state known for its summer resorts was handed a problem the other day. He was asked to suggest a resort in his area that would be likely to give a visiting Negro family the same reception accorded white families.

He soon discovered two things. One was that compliance with the state's long-standing laws against discrimination could be expected at almost any resort. The other was that there could be no assurance of anything more than observance of the letter of the law. The Negro family would just have to take its chances.

All this is germane to a fact that is well known but worth reiteration: it is one thing to get laws on the books in the field of human relations, and quite another to bring about real change in people's attitudes toward one another. Civil rights leaders, notably Dr. Martin Luther King of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference and Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, have properly been emphasizing this.

It is worth noting again, however, that enactment of good law in this field is the essential first step. The happy outcome of the little story above is that the Negro family had a pleasant time. Much of the credit goes to the buildup of a better human relations climate fostered by statutes put on the books many years ago.

In the light of this it is encouraging to have Wilkins' rather optimistic assessment of Southern compliance thus far with the public accommodations section of the 1964 Civil Rights Act. Although this has been largely on a token basis, he notes, it is "a rather startling and surprising token basis." Compliance seems better than had been anticipated. There is a long road ahead, but important steps already have been taken and there is reason to believe there will be no turning back.

Justice For The Poor

Attorney General Katzenbach has addressed himself imaginatively to one of the more serious problems in our system of justice. This is the fact that the poor commonly get the short end of the stick.

This is not solely the fault of the courts, nor of the legal profession. Nor can the poor themselves be saddled with all the blame, since they are in varying degree products of their environment and victims of circumstance.

Katzenbach did put the lawyers somewhat on the spot, however, by noting that if the poor are to receive justice certain traditional attitudes and practices of the legal profession must change. Proposals he made at the National Conference on Law and Poverty appear sensible to a layman, though there would need to be safeguards.

The attorney general suggests that lawyers pay less attention, in the case of the poor, to the historic precept that lawyers should not seek out clients. He believes that lawyers should make an effort to serve the poor, and supported his view with these remarks: "To be reduced to ethical prohibitions against profiteering when the client might well be penniless is, on its face, anomalous. To be reduced to inaction by ethical prohibitions against promoting litigation when unfair treatment abounds is to let the canons of lawyers serve injustice."

Katzenbach also thinks the legal profession should encourage lay advocacy for the poor in matters—installment purchase agreements, for example—that do not require the services of a lawyer. He called for reform in court procedures to give the poor a better break. His ideas for dealing with the problem of the poor man cut off from equal protection of the law are sound. They deserve thoughtful discussion in the legal profession, with a view to making the needed changes.

Dear Ann:

Teen Wants Waist-Long Mop Cut

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: I was 13 years old in April. My mother and I have been arguing about something for two years. She has agreed to abide by your decision and so have I.

I have never had a haircut in my life. My hair is clear down to my waist. Ever since I was a little girl people have given me compliments on my beautiful hair. I used to enjoy it a lot but it doesn't mean anything to me anymore.

I have been trying to get my hair cut ever since I was 11 but my mother won't hear of it. She says my hair is my best feature and if I have it cut off I will look like everybody else. I would be happy to look like everybody else just to get rid of this mop. Long, thick hair is hot in the summer and a lot of work to wash and brush. Also, I would like to wear my hair in a more modern style. Please be on my side. —TOP HEAVY

Dear Top: A 13-year-old should be permitted to get her hair cut if she wants to. Not only will it be easier to care for, but in your case it will be a symbol of growing up and growing up is a pretty good idea for all of us.

Dear Ann Landers: For 25 years I have been going to shows for brides and buying them presents. I figured I'd get even when a son got married.

Well my son is in the service stationed in Germany. He sent us a letter last week saying he married a very nice girl. (She is an American who works for the government.) I would like to give my new daughter-in-law an absentee kitchen shower so when they come home she will have her kitchen completely equipped. My neighbor who knows a lot about etiquette says it would not be proper. I say, why not? Please advise. —A MOTHER

Dear Mother: After 25 years of shelling out you are no doubt eager to "get even" — and who can blame you? But please wait until the bride comes home. A shower in absentia is an out and out cliché and your friends will resent it.

Dear Ann Landers: A relative of mine makes me so mad I can't see straight. She has a pet Pekingese dog that gets treated better than most people's children.

The dog is a finicky eater so the woman has cooks special dishes for the dog. Also, the dog cries if he has to stay alone at night so she hires a sitter to stay with him. The dog sleeps on a velvet pillow in a wicker basket. His toenails are manicured by a professional and he goes to the beauty shop to get bathed and combed every week. (I go every month.)

The thing that really gets my blood pressure up is those satin bows she puts over the dog's ears—and the gold collar. Isn't it immoral to lavish such luxury on a dog when there are millions of starving people in the world? What do you say? —DEASEATED

Dear Naused: There is no connection between lavishing luxury on dogs and the plight of millions of starving people. One is a sickness, the other is a tragedy. The woman who babies her dog has a desperate need to express her love for something. This reflects a pathetic lack of fulfillment, which is terribly sad.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Lindsay's Assets Pile Up In N.Y. Mayoralty Race

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Washington Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
NEW YORK (NEA) — One of the mysteries of American politics is the way voters, on occasion, seem to translate a candidate's good looks and dramatic flair into new hope for themselves.

Millions did it with the late John F. Kennedy, and now the signs are that many New Yorkers are managing the same alchemy with Rep. John Lindsay, the Republican candidate for mayor.

After nearly 12 years of the perhaps underrated but nevertheless plodding leadership of Democratic Mayor Robert Wagner, New Yorkers are finding it easy to say "it's time for a change." The cheerful vision they have of Lindsay makes the notion immensely plausible.

Pavored at the outset by his "star quality," the handsome Lindsay has gained further practical benefit — in terms of both drama and substance — from virtually every major event that has occurred in New York City since he jumped into the campaign two months ago.

Wagner's pull-out, the Liberal party's endorsement of Lindsay, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.'s decision not to try, and the proliferation of other Democratic prospects all served as propellers for Lindsay.

There cannot be any surprise, therefore, in hearing that key Democrats as well as Republicans think Lindsay today would beat any of the five announced Democrats.

At least one Lindsay manager believes that, since this is probably so, the only sensible strategy is to keep him pounding ahead of the Democratic pack. This would mean no letup at all in summer's dog days.

Lindsay's track to Nov. 2 is, however, dotted with loudly flapping caution flags.

His hardheaded campaign crew keeps staring at New York City's unfriendly political arithmetic. For the 1965 primary in September, Democratic registrants outnumber Republicans 34 to 1.

The best Republican hope here is that 35 to 40 per cent of New Yorkers now have considerable practice at jumping party lines.

Lindsay badly needs a big chunk of the normally Democratic Jewish vote, which could come to more than a third of the expected city total of 3 million.

His clean style, his liberal voting record, his Liberal party endorsement and the conservatives' blistering assault upon him through the candidacy of William F. Buckley have all helped to launch him well in the Jewish community. But the road ahead is still hard.

A top Lindsay staff man puts somewhat pessimistic emphasis on the fact that, for decades, countless New Yorkers have been dealing with known Democratic "power brokers" in many areas of city life. In this realm, the prospect of change could send shivers of fear right into the polling booths.

Lindsay's vaunted charm furthermore, is not a total blessing. Trying to run for mayor, he is being treated by many politicians and observers like a future GOP candidate for president. Newsmen from London, Paris, Rome and Toronto have recently trailed him.

Even without this, he is having a little trouble adjusting to the big- and very special-campaigning demands. He tends to speak a bit too long, and to ramble. An adviser told him:

"Now when you get out at that corner, don't just talk about city hospitals. Talk about that hospital across the street where the wall fell down and killed three Puerto Ricans. . . . Don't let a paragraph go by without having a name or a figure in it."

There is more: Money is slow despite glib promises from early well-wishers. Not many Negroes and Puerto Ricans may come Lindsay's way. Buckley could chew 100,000 votes off his total.

Nevertheless, Lindsay, out front and getting the breaks, is thumping along tirelessly. Nobody thinks his unprecedented saturation campaign will overexpose him. He needs to be known, and what he offers does not suffer in the camera's eye.

Enjoy Apricots Right Now

By GAYNOR MADDOX

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—Please tell me how long the season lasts for apricots.

A—The apricot season will continue only through July and August. The crop in California, our chief source of supply, is expected to be even bigger than last year.

If you like cherries, enjoy them now. The season is the same as for apricots—through June, July and August. California sweet cherries will be larger than last year and plentiful. But cherries from Washington were damaged by freezing in December and March — so was the sour cherry crop. Therefore, these will not be plentiful this year.

Q—Is it true that the price of canned pears may go up?

A—Probably. Bartlett pears, marketed from July to October, are expected to be in short supply.

The reason is this: California, the country's leading producer, had cold, wet weather during bloom — which reduced bee activity. As a result, pollination of the blooms was very poor. Since more than 60 per cent of the Bartlett pears are canned, this anticipated shortage of fresh pears will cause a rise in cost of canned pears, market experts warn.

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The newspapers gave brief treatment to the death of Neely Edwards last week. That was natural, since he was 82 and long passed from the entertainment spotlight.

Yet he held a record in the acting profession, and it was one of which he was justly proud.

I first knew Neely in the years when he was a member of "The Drunkard" troupe in Los Angeles. That was the aged melodrama that began its run in the depression of 1933 and continued uninterruptedly until 1950.

Neely was a marvel to watch. He enacted the sanctimonious rich man who befriended the hero; he also doubled as the red-nosed bartender who poured the hero down the primrose path. In the after-show he displayed his vaudevillean skill, singing, dancing and whacking a one-man instrument of his own invention.

He would leer at the ladies in the audience and mutter with a shake of his white mane, "there may be snow on the roof, but there's fire in the furnace."

Neely dropped out of sight after "The Drunkard" folded. He suffered the loss of his wife, Margarita Snow, a star in such films as "Million Dollar Mystery Girl." His own health declined and he became a patient at the Motion Picture Country House. That's where I visited him late last month.

His face showed the ravage of a stroke but his hair and mustache were as luxuriant as before. Though he spoke falteringly, his mind seemed active and he appeared to enjoy company.

He wandered back through the years, talking of the days when he toured vaudeville with Eddie Flanagan. The team fared well and they were hired to star in silent movie comedies based on a comic strip, "The Hall Room Boys." The series was the first hit attraction of a new company that was to be Columbia Pictures.

"Too bad Ed didn't live to see what a success his son was," commented Neely. The young Flanagan changed his name to Dennis O'Keefe.

Neely free-lanced in films after his partner died, then along came "The Drunkard." He was especially pleased with the show's record.

"I don't think there will ever be another show that will run that long," he said. After a lapse during which his eyes flickered as he tried to form the words, he mentioned something about a book. I caught the word Guinness.

Talk seemed difficult for him, so I took my leave. He apologized for being unable to shake hands; "come see me again," he urged.

A week later he was dead. When I heard the news, I went to a book store and bought the Guinness Book of World Records. There, next to a picture of Elvis Presley (best-selling recording artist) was a portrait of Neely in his role as the kindly rich man.

The caption read: "Most durable actor: Neely Edwards played for 25 years in 'The Drunkard' and its musical Zula Dodd, from Shake Rag, adaptation called 'Wayward near Waverly,' were made one, 'Way' in Los Angeles, 1933-59."

NEW YORK (AP) — Drought along the nation's northeast coast and ever-growing populations in the arid West give new urgency to desalting water by nuclear and other methods.

Cost is still the chief deterrent. Most communities can get regular fresh water much more cheaply, even if at long distances.

But in many spots in the world — such as Kuwait in the Near East, or at the U.S. Naval Base at Guantanamo, Cuba, after Fidel Castro cut off the natural water supply — cost is a secondary consideration. Need for water, any water, comes first.

And threats of severe shortages this summer in many U.S. cities are causing new study of desalting devices.

A 55-nation desalting conference is planned in Washington in October.

In New York the State Atomic and Space Development Authority has approved installation of a nuclear reactor system at the eastern end of Long Island. It will be built by American Machine & Foundry, go into operation in 1968, extract one million gallons of fresh water a day from the ocean, produce 2,500 kilowatts of electricity and also high energy radioactive isotopes for industrial use.

Nuclear power will boil the water, separating the salt from the fresh water. Other fuels are used in other plants around the world — oil, coal, electricity. This evaporation process is but one of the ways of desalting water.

Other ways of desalting are: freezing, which separates salt crystals from water crystals; reverse osmosis, which forces water through a membrane, leaving the salt behind; or use of an electric current to force salt and minerals out of sea or other brackish water.

Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission, says that in five years small nuclear plants should be commercially available for producing electricity.

But John W. Simpson, vice president of Westinghouse Electric, which built the five-million-gallon a day plant in Kuwait, says his company is ready to build a plant to process 150 million gallons daily. He thinks the United States should build a prototype plant now to produce at least 50 million gallons a day.

Simpson contends that wider use would cut the cost of such production to 35 cents per thousand gallons, which he says is about average for the United States. In New York City water still costs about 12 cents a thousand.

FINDING THE WAY

Faith Is Mobile, Too

By RALPH W. LOEW, D.D.

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

How would you typify this generation? Dr. Harvey Cox recently suggested in "The Secular City" that the most appropriate symbols are the cloverleaf and the switchboard.

The cloverleaf is the intricate highway design which is the symbol of a mobile civilization. We are on the move and there is no possible way to stop the continuing motion.

The switchboard gives a man a chance for some privacy. It permits the filtering out of calls. "We are free to use the switchboard without being victimized by its infinite possibilities."

Urban life demands that we treat most of the people we meet as persons — not as things but not as intimates either.

The cloverleaf and the switchboard are here and this author is right in assuming that they must be dealt with in a redemptive way. They are not necessarily evil.

Our problem is to suppose that because of these developments something of our ancient and trusted faith has been displaced. By forgetting history we can pretend that we are the first generation to be on the move.

Yet the little Ukrainian lady with whom I spoke the other day told of coming to this country at the age of 17 years, of marrying the young man she met on the boat and that long ocean voyage and of never seeing her ancestral home again.

The Mature Parent

The Meaning of Love

By Mrs. Muriel Lawrence
Selections from a book I want to acquaint you with, "Dialogues With Mothers" by Dr. Bruno Bettelheim, will appear in this space during the next two weeks.

Dr. Bettelheim is the noted psychoanalyst principal of the University of Chicago's Sonia Shankman Orthogenic School for severely disturbed children. "Dialogues With Mothers" is not conversation with the mothers of deeply disturbed children. It's a book of transcribed sessions with the parents of normal children, many of them wives of graduate students at the University of Chicago. They are young, intelligent, middle-class women who wanted to learn how to live more successfully with their children and so sought the guidance of the great child psychoanalyst.

I have chosen his book to select from to give you the flavor of what can happen between us and an "expert" who doesn't talk to us like an "expert" but like a real psychoanalyst.

For example, a mother, worried about the amount of restraint to put on her child, asks Dr. Bettelheim, "Isn't it possible to love a child too much?"

"What do you mean by 'love'?" he retorts. "A lot of restraint, suppression and browbeating can go on under the cloak of love, you know. Now that kind of love is too much."

10 YEARS AGO

Senator Everett Dirksen announced Saturday that the Senate appropriations committee has voted a new railroad bridge across the Illinois river. It will be built at Moredora or Valley City.

Miss Maridene Knipmeyer of Pittsfield graduated last week from the U.I. Medical school in Chicago. The commencement exercises were held in Medinah Temple.

The assessment list shows there are only five dogs in Murrayville, yet a stranger saw 12 in one bunch one day last week.

Asking us what we mean by what we have done or said is how psychoanalysts compel us to examine our meanings. By this re-examination is restored to us that substance of ourselves which we lost to other people's misjudgments of our meanings.

Thus, in these excerpts I have selected, you'll see how a skilled psychoanalyst cuts through the muddle of our easy words, of our glib preconceptions of a thing like "love." For example, by questions he forces us to question our inherited or acquired notions of that "love" we owe to a child so that we can give him.

With the exception of Dr. Bettelheim's "Dialogues With Mothers," I know of no book that accurately exposes what goes on between us and that good psychoanalyst whose job it is to bypass our words in order to force us to get down to the brass tacks of what we actually mean by them.

If the selections I've made don't deliver the full impact of his moral vitality, they'll convey enough of it to make it worth-while, to make you think, and remember to disturb your inherited notions of virtuous parenthood so that you can wonder: "Did my parents teach me everything there is to know about 'loving' a child? Is there more to loving anyone than I know about? Let me learn. God, let me learn."

Find Little Ill Effect On Pupils Who Are TV Fans

By RAY CROMLEY

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Research indicates our children may not be harmed by watching television.

After 15 years of work on the problem, scientists aren't certain, but now see indications television may even do youngsters some good.

Take school marks for example. A California study divides grade school children into two groups — "heavy viewers" and "light viewers."

The researchers concluded that "what slight difference there was in grades was over-all in favor of the heavy viewers."

The television addicts in grades one through four had work study habits "a little above the mean" and social attitudes "only a little below" the mean.

Another survey concludes: Don't fight television; join it. "Reading has been fostered with unusual success by teachers who have helped boys and girls to obtain books related to favorite television programs."

About a fourth of the elementary and high school pupils in one study said that television presentations had led them to read certain books—Hamlet, A Tale of Two Cities, Treasure Island, Little Women, Peter Pan, Lassie, Tom Sawyer.

Still another study indicates that avid television watchers increase their vocabularies. The researchers aren't certain, though, whether the improvement comes from the programs or the commercials.

But this isn't all. Grady studies also indicate that the average age elementary and secondary school pupil (both the heavy viewer and the light viewer) reads books less than he used to—an average of one hour a day.

HAPPY WORKERS 4-H PLANS ANNUAL TOUR

The Happy Workers 4-H club met July 13 at the home of Diane Flynn. The meeting was called to order by the secretary, Sally Eilering. Rita Doolin led the pledge to the flag. The club members discussed local and county achievement days and were put into groups for the upcoming tour of a nursing home. Plans were made for helping the club's sponsoring extension unit at the county fair August 7. The program was given by Diane Flynn, Laura Bowe, Nancy McSherry, and Rose Mary Taylor. After the meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served. A dog of 17 is equivalent of a human 100 years old.

Here Are Pros And Cons

How About National Testing Of Education?

By G.K. HODENFIELD
AP Education Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — "I'll lay odds of 2 to 1," a state superintendent of schools said today, "we'll have national testing within five years, and the start of a national curriculum dictated by Washington within 10 years."

"Don't take the bet," said another prominent educator. "The tests are being drawn up now."

Both men declined to be quoted by name. Both, however, have been closely involved in the most controversial issue before the conference: Should there be a "national assessment of educational progress?"

This would involve a program of tests of elementary and high school pupils to see how good education is throughout the country and how areas and communities compare.

Here are the arguments used for and against it:

Pro — The American taxpayer is spending billions of dollars a year on the public elementary and secondary schools, and he has a right to know what he is getting for his money.

We can't identify and cure our educational ills unless we know exactly where we stand.

National assessment, or testing, might jar some lax communities and states into increasing their commitment to education.

Con — National testing will lead inevitably to national standards and to eventual dictatorship from Washington on what should be taught in the classroom and how.

National standards will lead to uniformity, and stifle creativity and experimentation. The schools, and the teachers, will be forced to "teach for the test." All the information that's needed is available right now from the many nationwide tests being used, such as National Merit Scholarship examinations and "college boards."

TRASSA GALLOWAY, ROBERT CULP JR. MARRIED JULY 11

Miss Trassa Ruth Galloway became the bride of Robert E. Culp in a double ring ceremony at the home of the groom on July 11.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Winner of Naples and the late Harvey D. Galloway. Her husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Culp Sr. of Jacksonville.

For her wedding, the bride chose a navy blue street length dress with white accessories. Her shoulder length veil was secured by a beaded-pearl crown and she carried a colonial bouquet of white baby mums and red roses.

Mrs. Alice German, sister of the groom, attended the bride wearing a blue sheath dress with matching accessories.

Wilber German served his brother-in-law as best man.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony for the following guests: Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bock, Toyna Galloway, Mildred Bailey, Turea Galloway, Timothy Galloway, Mrs. John Winner and the bride's mother, Mrs. Ruth Winner. The newlyweds are now living in Jacksonville.

Before you make the biggest investment of your life...

be sure it's a Medallion Home

CHANCES ARE the biggest check you'll ever sign is the one that closes the deal for your new home.

This is no time for guesswork. How about the electric wiring, for instance? Most of it's inside the walls—how do you know if the job's done right?

Easy. Look for the Medallion.

Many builders display it proudly right at the door. The Medallion on a home certifies that it meets the highest standards of electrical convenience. You'll be assured of adequate wiring, heavy duty circuits, special purpose circuits, general purpose circuits, outlets, light wherever it is needed, and at least four major appliances, including an electric range.

It's your money—use it wisely. Whether you build or buy, insist on a Medallion Home.

JUST ONE MORE WAY WE'RE AT YOUR SERVICE

The Medallion, awarded by Illinois Power Company to homes which meet specific electric standards of excellence, helps take the guesswork out of selecting a new house.

Let's Go Birding

The Beautiful Singer

By Emma Mae Leonhard

During the warm summer days the woods seem unnaturally silent. As yet the leaves and seed pods aren't brittle enough to rattle in the slightest breeze.

If the woods are close to a farm or highway, the mournful coo of the Dove may drift into the silence. If they are bordering a hot field, the musical trill of a Field Sparrow may break the heavy quietness.

In general, the woods are silent. Yet, if we are brave enough to battle with the mosquitoes or wise enough to drape ourselves with a mosquito repellent, we may remain in the woods long enough to catch the loveliest flute notes of a bird song in the distance. If the woods are deep and a sluggish river or stream penetrates it, we shall be favored with a full song of "wood notes wild."

Reflects Beauty

If we listen attentively, we can always detect the phrase "ee-o-lay" of a natural purity. This music sings no message; it reflects only the intangible beauty of summer greenery, the union of things heard with those felt but not understood.

The notes of this bird's song suggest to some music lovers the phrases of great musical compositions like Handel's "Largo," Weber's "Invitation to the Dance," or Gounod's interpretation of Faust's moving appeal to Marguerite in the garden.

Know His Name?

Perhaps you have already guessed that this beautiful singer is the Wood Thrush. And you are right.

We in Jacksonville used to be favored with this enchanting bird and its song. During the last few years it has been a rare occasion for the Wood Thrush to pause with us, but it is always worth hoping for or listening for.

If we fail to hear it close to home, we know that we can find it in the deep woods.

Prayer Poem—

According To Thy Will

By Mary Pence Claywell

I thought about my loved ones,
When I laid me down to sleep,
And whispered, "Dear Lord, Bless them,"
And, "Their souls, Dear Father, keep."
I thought about their ailments,
And I thought about my "Friends,"
The sick, Dear Lord, especially,
And others... without end:
I let my own heart throb and bleed,
Without a pause... or break,
And as the long hours came and went,
I still lay there awake:
At last, I thought a moment,
And lay there very still,
And whispered, "Jesus keep them."
According... to Thy Will:
And then the room was peaceful;
There was no gloom at all:
It faded into nothingness,
With neither... bound nor wall:
I can't pin-point the moment,
You know... the "sandman's" way,
But "sleep" is born of CALMNESS,
Not WORRY... when... we pray!

FIRST ROCKET AT THE CAPE

By WALTER B. HENDRICKSON JR.

The first rocket roared aloft from Cape Kennedy only a decade and a half ago yesterday on July 24, 1950. The infant space port was barely a year old then and bulldozers and construction crews had just begun the job changing it from the "crane brake" or "Canaveral" of Spanish explorer days to the bustling missile center and moon port we know today.

This first rocket fired at the Cape was a dwarf compared to the monsters that now roar into space from there. It stood only 60 feet tall but it paved the way for all the missiles to come. This rocket was one of two Bumper rockets (number 7 and 8) — the United States' first large two-stage rocket. The first stage of the Bumper rocket was a captured German V-2 and the second an American-made WAC - Corporal rocket.

The purpose of Project Bumper was to investigate the problems of launching large two-stage rockets. The engineers managed to put together a rocket that fitted this aim well in spite of the fact that the V-2 was not designed for a second stage and the WAC - Corporal was not designed to be one.

Same Fuels Today

Every liquid-fueled rocket at the Cape since that historic first, has used the same two basic types of fuels that powered the V-2 and WAC - Corporal. The V-2 burned alcohol ignited in liquid oxygen by a special in-wheel starter. The nitric acid and anilin fuels of the WAC - Corporal, however, would explode when they mixed — the kind of fuels engineers call "hypergolic."

Travel Dirt Roads

The Project Bumper team arrived at the Cape fresh from a successful series of six high altitude shots at White Sands Proving Ground, New Mexico. This program was highlighted by the fifth rocket's flight to a record height of 250 miles, a record which stood for six years.

The Project Bumper team had come to Cape Canaveral to test their rockets on long range — at least for that day — flight. When they arrived they found a bare minimum of facilities; the only hard road on the Cape led to the light house, and the rockets had to be trucked to the launching site over narrow, sandy dirt roads.

At the launching site there was only a sandbagged bunker for a blockhouse and metal pipe scaffold for a service tower. Work that had been done by machines had to be done by muscle power at the Cape. Fortunately the Germans had designed the V-2 to be launched by mobile batteries under combat conditions even more austere than those at the Cape in 1950. The V-2 was carried on a trailer, called a Meillerwagen, which was equipped to lift it onto a portable firing stand. Also in the mobile launch battery were portable launch instruments and electric generators tank truck of alcohol and trucks to manufacture liquid oxygen.

FIND BURIED TREASURE—BAYARD, Iowa—These 12 members of the "Space Cadets Club" dug up an estimated $11,585 while building a clubhouse. The money was counted and an official said the Cadets "let out a yell every time we added a new total. I think they wore out a dozen pencils checking out our figures and figuring their share of the money." The members are: back row: Patrick McAllister, David Springer, James Springer. Middle row: Michael McAllister, Myron Nissen, Marty Nissen, and Robert Nelson. Front row: Michael Springer, Thomas Burns, Jerome Siedhoff, Russell McAllister and Kelly McAllister. (UPI Telephoto)

His name is Bernardo St. Bernard, his jail number is 000-065, and the court order sentencing him to life "imprisonment" was signed by Judge Daniel Ryan of Felony Court, and a clerk of the Circuit Court. Bernardo went to jail 10 days ago when his owner, who also owns a Great Dane, gave Bernardo to Makowski. Seems Bernardo couldn't get along with the Great Dane. "Sentencing" followed, and as official jail mascot, he plays ball with the inmates, and he likes this fine. (UPI Telephoto)

Cousin Clara's Visit

By John Rankin

Tony's Dad has promised him that they will go fishing, and both are looking forward to this outing when Mom comes in with a letter saying that Aunt Clara and her children are coming for a visit.

Tony slammed his fist down on the workbench with a bang. "Suffering cats!" He stormed. "I'd rather have a band of wild Indians moving in—especially right now."

Dad put both hands to his head in despair. "Oh no! Not again," he moaned. "Call her back and say we have an epidemic of rabies in the family—or that the area around Deer Lake is infested with rattlesnakes."

Mom flashed Tony and Dad a look of reproach. "Why Raymond Garrett! You both should be ashamed of yourselves," she said tersely. "Cousin Clara is not really a bad sort—and she and the children are just dying to go fishing with you!"

Buzzing Like Beehive
Cousin Clara and her brood arrived on schedule Saturday morning—and the place was soon turned into a beehive of unruly, screaming kids until late afternoon when Mom finally managed to get them upstairs and into bed.

Moments later Dad motioned to Tony. "Come along, son, your mother wants some things from the store," he said wearily. Then as he backed the car from the drive he added with a sigh. "Another hour of that blitzkrieg and I'd be ready for the booby hatch."

"Yeah, me too," Tony admitted as Dad pulled the car into the street. "Guess the fishing trip is all off, eh?"

"I'm afraid so, son," Dad grimaced as he threaded the car through the traffic. "I'd rather stay home than go fishing with that tribe of wild savages."

"Maybe we could sort of slip off without 'em," Tony brightened.

Dad shook his head. "I'm afraid that would be a bit rude, son, and besides we'd never hear the last from your mother about it even though cousin Clara didn't take offense."

Tony Has A Plan
After a moment of meditation Tony's eyes suddenly lit up. "Hey, Dad," he exclaimed. "If we could sort of help cousin Clara decide to stay home with Mom—then nobody would get made, eh?"

Dad pulled away from a traf-

For 50 years, from 1820 to 1870, the Mississippi steamboat dominated the economy, agriculture, commerce and social customs of the middle area of the United States. Though they were colorful "palaces on paddle wheels" they were also known as "swimming volcanoes." From 1810 to 1850 alone an estimated 4,000 persons died in steamboat disasters on the Mississippi.

The classic example of the principle of restricted choice comes when you miss four of a suit to the queen-jack and drop either the queen or jack on the first lead. If you do drop one you should play the suit to break three-one because the player would have no choice with a singleton honor, but would have the choice between two cards had he held queen-jack doubleton.

In today's hand, taken from the open pairs at the recent Eastern championships, most South players arrived at three no-trump. A few enterprising souls worked their way to six diamonds.

At three no-trump declarers who finessed against West's ten of clubs after the jack dropped on the second lead of the suit made five odd, others made only four.

When the diamond slam was bid the club play really became important. Declarers needed four club tricks to make the slam.

Everyone started the club suit by playing low to the king and back to the ace. East played the jack on the second club lead and when West followed low on the third club it showed that East had either played the jack as a false-card with jack-ten or because he had only that one card and therefore no choice.

Thus the finesse was indicated and those declarers who understood the principle were properly rewarded by making one more trick than those who simply played out the top clubs.

Does Extended Use Of Urea Threaten Soybean Market?

HUDSON, Iowa — Just how big a threat urea poses as a replacement for soybean meal in livestock feeds will be evaluated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture economist who heads a special USDA committee to study the subject, at the forthcoming 45th annual convention of the American Soybean association at Memphis, Tenn., Aug. 16-17, says Geo. M. Strayer, executive vice president.

Earl F. Hodges, agricultural economist in USDA's Economic Research Service, Washington, will speak on "Usage of Urea in Ruminant Feeds," at the ASA convention at the Hotel Peabody in Memphis, Aug. 17. "Urea constitutes a constant danger to soybean meal markets," according to Strayer.

"Sales of urea for use in ruminant feeding (cattle and sheep) have been growing each year."

Works In Rumen

Urea is a synthetic compound which can be converted to protein in the rumens of beef and dairy cattle, sheep and goats. It has no feeding value for swine and poultry, and may be toxic when added to their feeds.

"There are persons who say urea could replace all soybean meal in ruminant feeds—at a price," says Strayer. "This would mean loss of the market for meal from some 80 million bushels of soybeans—nearly 20% of our market." Soybean meal has been the leading protein supplement in livestock feeds in recent years.

"A Bright Side" "But there is a bright side to the picture for the soybean industry," says Strayer. "Efforts to switch dairy cows to urea bring undesirable side effects. Young animals do not use it satisfactorily. Continued urea feeding may shorten the productive period of the cow. Some animals refuse urea-based feeds."

"It will pay soybean producers to hear what Mr. Hodges has to say on this subject, based on the factual study by his committee in USDA," said Strayer. "This possible loss of 20% of our total meal market could be a severe blow."

The formal program of the convention will be followed by a field trip to the famed 30,000-acre Lee Wilson & Co. plantation at Wilson, Ark., and the Northeast Branch Experiment Station at Keiser, Ark., on Aug. 18.

IOWA VISITORS HONORED AT SUPPER AT WHITE HALL

WHITE HALL — Richard Ross and two sons of Burlington, Iowa, who are visiting his mother, Mrs. Ethel Ross and other relatives in the area, were honored at a supper Wednesday evening in the home of his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Tunison.

Attending were Mrs. Ethel Ross, Mrs. Ward McCollister, Miss Helen Worcester, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Griswold, all of White Hall; Mrs. Mary Conole, Madison, Illinois; and Mr. and Mrs. Don Lakin and family of Murrayville.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall of Grand Rapids, Michigan were guests recently of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Tollgaard. They accompanied the Tollgaards to Iowa and attended the Lake-Land, Florida and Iowa picnic, held annually at Marshalltown, Iowa. En route home the Tollgaards visited friends in Peoria.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Eastham of Pontiac, Michigan visited relatives here Wednesday. The Conquistador Drag Race club has announced Stan Lomolino, and Tony Hinderkson, both of Virden, will have a match race at the drag strip north of the city on Tues. night, July 27th.

To Name County ASC Committee Next Friday

The Morgan County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) committee for next year will be elected by farmer-chosen delegates to a county convention July 30 at 9:30 a.m. at the ASCS office in Jacksonville, according to Lester E. Martin, chairman.

The convention will be open to the public, and any person interested in observing the voting procedure may attend. However, only farmer-delegates to the convention may participate in the election process. The delegate body will include three farmers from each community. There are 18 communities in Morgan County, therefore, the county convention will include 54 voting delegates. Election is by secret ballot and plurality vote.

Martin pointed out that county committeemen will be elected for staggered terms of office this year. One member for three years, one for two years, and one for one year. The two alternates will each be elected for one year terms. In succeeding years, one member will be elected for a three year term and two alternates for one year each.

4 To Attend Leadership Conference

Four Morgan county 4-H Club members will have a chance to improve their leadership abilities when they attend the annual Illinois 4-H Junior Leaders Conference July 28 through 31 at 4-H Memorial Camp near Monticello.

They are Meri Sue Wallace, of Jacksonville; Kathy Wright, Murrayville; Tom Johnson and Wayne Bloomfield, both of Ashland.

The opening sessions will set the stage for the rest of the conference, because it is at these sessions that the 4-Hers will be organized to help run the program. Many of the meetings on the program will feature group discussion and participation.

Miss Lucille Pepon, University of Illinois Family Life specialist, will discuss leadership as it relates to individuals, groups of young people and groups of adults.

Karl Gardner, associate dean of the College of Agriculture, will describe for the delegates the various opportunities that are available for those who wish to attend college.

The purpose of the conference is to teach the delegates to be effective leaders in 4-H Club work and county activities, as well as to enable them to gain confidence in themselves and their leadership abilities.

Camp This Week At The Lake

Seventy-nine young Morgan-Scott 4-H members will camp this week at the Western Illinois 4-H camp on the shores of Lake Jacksonville.

Counselors for the agriculture clubs will be Richard Hembrough and Farm Adviser George Trull. The group of home economics counselors will be headed by Miss Carolyn Calvert, Morgan-Scott assistant home adviser. She will be assisted by Phyllis Marshall, Patty Smith, Carol Becker and Charlene Fielder of Jacksonville and Melba Rolf of Winchester.

Pike and Menard county members will also be at the camp this week.

DIANE STRAWN, 12, NEW ANGUS JUNIOR

ST. JOSEPH, Mo. — Diane Strawn, 12, Jacksonville, has been granted a junior membership in the American Angus association, an announcement Glen Bratcher, secretary.

This new junior membership entitles the member to register purebred Angus at regular member rates and to the privileges of the Association until the age of 21. At that time junior members are eligible to convert to lifetime memberships in the Association.

There were 205 young people in the United States to receive junior memberships last month.

Pheasants And The Weather

One of the most puzzling questions that continues to plague wildlife management is the failure to establish good pheasant populations south of U.S. highway 36 in Illinois, Indiana and Missouri, says the current issue of the Illinois Natural History Survey.

Lack of the calcium in the soil, non-hatch of eggs due to excessive temperatures and excessive predation have been suggested as reasons why the southern area is unsuitable for the persistence of pheasants, but intensive study of each point has failed to indicate that any of these are limiting factors.

Weather A Clue?

Taking another tack, survey investigators have been taking a close look at Old Man Weather for possible clues to the puzzle.

Renowned pheasant - productive areas in the Midwest include eastern South Dakota, northeastern Nebraska, northern Iowa, southwestern Minnesota, the northern part of central Illinois, and the thumb of Michigan. Survey wildlife specialist W. R. Edwards plotted the average monthly temperatures and rainfall for many areas in the Midwest and found that areas of good pheasant range had a conspicuous common denominator — all had higher rainfall during the summer months and lesser rainfall during the cold winter and early spring months.

Pheasant strains introduced successfully into North America appear to have come from the plains area near or north of Shanghai, China, and this area has very low precipitation during the cold winter months but high monsoon precipitation during the summer months. The inference is that our pheasant strains in their long evolution in cooler areas of China became adapted to relatively dry winter conditions and may be unable to persist in Southern Illinois areas where the winter precipitation is markedly greater than that of the prairies and central plains to the north.

By contrast, pheasants seem to do well in the humid coastal area of the Northwest where the summers are dry and the winters wet, but there the winters are much milder than in southern Illinois.

Different Strain Needed?

What we may need for southern Illinois is a different strain of pheasant adapted to a cold wet winter. Wildfowl W. L. Anderson points out that there are probably pheasant strains in provinces of central and southern China that might fit these requirements but that under existing conditions it is almost impossible to obtain breeding stock from specific areas because of the present state of world politics.

Also, suppliers not acquainted with the real nature of the problem might well be tempted to substitute birds from tame stocks whose immediate ancestry was not from the regions specified. Such birds might not survive at all in the wild. The ideal solution would be to get birds through a scientific field party but at the moment this avenue of approach seems out of the question. As a future lead, it might have great possibilities.

Competition for scarce resources is evident in the egg industry, Bentz pointed out. Since people tend to use their resources for the enterprise that makes the most money, the industry is expanding in some areas and contracting in others.

Mt. Sterling Legion Couples At State Meet

MT. STERLING — Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kunkel of Mt. Sterling and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Devine of Eldon, near Mt. Sterling are in Chicago attending the Department (state) Convention of the Legion and Auxiliary. Mrs. Arlin Galloway of Mt. Sterling is also attending. The group is expected back on Sunday.

The junior class members at Brown County High School here is having an auction bake sale at 9 a.m. Saturday, July 24th, in the Condee building. Mike Kelly is to be the auctioneer.

The annual Kelly family reunion will be held at noon Sunday, July 25th, at Ripley park. Joe Prunty became a member of the First Christian church here July 18th. Rev. and Mrs. Herschel M. Reed, the new pastor and wife, have transferred their membership from the Alexandria, Ind. church to the local church which Mr. Reed now serves.

A number of Mt. Sterling Girl Scouts leave Sunday for Camp Saukenauk, near Lima, Ill. They will enjoy two weeks of camping, cooking and sports. Several of the mothers will take the girls to Lima.

To The State Fair

Miss Pat Leetham, left, and Miss Beverly Waggener are rehearsing these days getting ready to represent the Morgan County Farm Bureau Young People's organization in the district contest to be held Aug. 17 in conjunction with the Illinois state fair.

Miss Leetham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Leetham, route 3, will play a piano solo and Miss Waggener, will sing several selections from "Mary Poppins." She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Waggener, 882 Case St.

They are shown holding their $10 checks given by the Farm Bureau for their victory in the county contest held at the fairgrounds July 10.

3 Principal Factors Affect Egg Market

CHICAGO — The major social and economic trends that may be seen in agriculture generally are being paralleled in the egg industry, according to a University of Illinois egg and poultry marketing economist.

In relating the agricultural changes of the past 20 years to changes in the egg industry at the annual H and N Franchise Hatchery meeting Monday, R. P. Bentz said that commercialization, competition and a declining demand for eggs are three forces that have strongly affected egg production and marketing.

Slip From WWII

The decrease in demand for eggs may have been inevitable because people consumed many more eggs than usual during World War II, Bentz said. The decrease may also have been influenced by the shift to urban living, the coffee break, fads, less physical labor, and less time for breakfast because of commuting.

Bentz noted that commercialization is characterized by the search for profits. This profit goal has caused the industry to seek cost-cutting methods that have produced technological gains. Cost-cutting techniques include substituting capital for labor; increased size and scale of production and marketing plants; and the streamlining of the production-marketing system through mergers, coordination and marketing agreements.

Competition for scarce resources is evident in the egg industry, Bentz pointed out. Since people tend to use their resources for the enterprise that makes the most money, the industry is expanding in some areas and contracting in others.

Illinois Grain Sets Caucus Here Aug. 17

Illinois Grain Corporation, Chicago, will hold a series of caucus meetings in August and September for the nomination of directors to be elected at the firm's annual meeting Nov. 16.

The company has established 10 IGC districts in Illinois. One director will be elected from each district. In addition, two directors at large will be named from the board of the Illinois Agricultural association, bringing the directorate to 12 members.

Illinois Grain Corporation and United Grain Company of Champaign merged July 22, 1964. Since then the board of directors of IGC has consisted of 16 members — the directors of the two former companies. These directors will serve until the new cooperative's first annual meeting which will be held in conjunction with the annual meeting of the IAA. The IAA annual meeting will be November 15-18 in Chicago. IGC is an affiliate of the IAA.

The bylaws of the new company called for the board to redistrict the state into 10 districts. The redistricting was completed and approved by the IGC board in June.

Shareholders include both member company elevators and individuals. Shareholders from this area are invited to attend the District 6 caucus meeting at Farm

ILLINOIS OUTLOOK LETTER

CROP PROSPECTS ARE VERY GOOD

Corn Crop May Break Record Corn prospects are unusually good over most of the nation. Exceptions are small — a few states in the East and scattered areas in the South.

Best July prospect. The corn crop prospect is the best ever for July. The first official USDA forecast, based on conditions July 1, is that the national average yield will be 68.3 bushels per acre. This would be the highest yield on record — 10 percent higher than last year and 1 percent higher than two years ago.

Total production of corn is forecast at 3,912 bushels. This would be 10 percent more than last year but 4 percent less than two years ago. The first official forecast of the 1965 corn crop, however, is 2 percent more than the first official forecast for 1963. If the 1965 crop improves as much as the 1963 crop did, total production this year would be 4,155 million bushels, a new all-time record.

On the other hand, if the 1965 crop deteriorates as much as the 1964 crop did, then it will total only 3,573 million bushels. Such deterioration is unlikely. Growing conditions were usually favorable during the first half of July. Good rains relieved most dry areas, and reserves of soil moisture are much better than they were a year ago.

Prices may be lower. Prices may average slightly lower for the 1965 crop than for the 1964 crop. Not only will the crop be larger this year, but the price-support loan rate will be 5 cents less — $1.05 a bushel compared with $1.10 for the 1964 crop.

Loan rates on other feed grains will also be lower for this year's crop than for last year's. The loan on oats has gone down from 65 to 60 cents; barley, from 84 to 80 cents; sorghum grain, from $1.77 per cwt. to $1.65. Wheat also has a lower loan rate — $1.25, or 5 cents less than last year.

Wheat competitive. The government's new wheat program has put wheat into strong competition with corn. In June, for example, the U.S. average price for 100 pounds of wheat was 8 cents lower than for corn.

Wheat was notably cheaper than corn in the mid-Atlantic states and most of the Western states. Nearly 70 million bushels of wheat were fed to livestock in the year ended June 30. The amount of wheat used for feed will likely increase as farmers and feed manufacturers become accustomed to using it.

Stocks of corn down. Stocks of corn on farms July 1 totaled 1,265 million bushels, 18 percent less than a year earlier. Disappearance of corn from farms in the April-June quarter was 632 million bushels, 18 percent less than a year ago.

The carryover of old corn on October 1 will be around 1,200 million bushels, down from 1,510 million last fall.

13 Mt. Sterling Scouts Spend Week At Camp

MT. STERLING — Thirteen Mt. Sterling Boy Scouts and their leader, Bud Barker, returned home last Saturday, July 17th, from a week's stay at Camp Saukenauk, near Lima, Ill.

In addition to cooking camp-style the boys received instruction in swimming, boating, camp fire making, rifle range, archery and musketry.

Scouts camping were Robert Peacock, Bill and David Kunkel, Raymon Wegs, Terry Nichols, Mark and David Hill, Ronnie Lang, Mike Tracy, Willie Shepherd, Reggie Barker, Donnie Condee and Max Shoopman. Barker joined the boys on Tuesday and spent the remainder of the week. Taking cars to camp were Gerald Reich, Jack Hill and Wayne Peacock and bringing the group home Saturday were Mrs. Condee, Mrs. Tracy and Mrs. Kunkel.

Visitors Mr. and Mrs. Bud Barker and son Mike are spending a week's vacation. The trip includes sightseeing and ball games in St. Louis.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Stevenson and son, Randy who have been living in Sao Paulo, Brazil the past year, visited last week here with Mrs. Katie Zimmerman, and Mrs. Dorothy Zimmerman, aunts of Mr. Stevenson and at the home of the Mike Daniels family. Mr. Stevenson is manager of the general Food Plant at Kibon. After the family visits Mrs. Stevenson's relatives in Quincy they will return to Brazil by plane.

Present were Bruce and Penny Kirkham, Brad, Dara and Dawn Johnson of Jacksonville; Kim Clark, Denise and Mike Feeney. Assisting were Mrs. Gene Kirkham and Mrs. Ted Clark.

Many Friends Of 4-H Will Help Youngsters At 1965 Junior Fair

The program of the Morgan County Junior Fair is designed for the young people, but it takes a lot of help from adults to put the show on the road and keep it humming.

Many of the latter have been helping the fair move along ever since it was organized. They know what to do now, and what's more important — what not to do to keep things running on schedule.

And of course there are the 4-H leaders who are helpful in so many ways, and the parents of the youthful and eager exhibitors.

Robert Houston, route 2, heads the agricultural section of the fair and he will be assisted by a large corps of assistants, many of which have had years of experience in their various fields.

In the beef cattle show Carl Becker is the superintendent. He will be helped by Wayne Tomhave, 544 Brooklyn; Warren Lakamp, route 2; Delbert Rahe, Chapin, and Darrell Smith, Alexander.

Ward Petefish of Ashland has been perennial assistant with the dairy cattle show and is the superintendent again this year. He'll be aided by Charles Anderson, 1236 S. Clay ave.; Bill Taylor, Arenzville, and Byron McGinnis, route 1.

Another real veteran is Robert Middleton Jr., route 2, superintendent of the sheep show. His assistants are Albert Wilson, route 2; Bill Long, Alexander; Robert Mawson, route 2, and James Fox, Lynnville.

The Pork Show Rollin Martin, route 3, will be back in charge of the swine department. His very experienced helpers will be Bob Darley, route 5; Bob Joy, Chapin; Richard DeOrnellas, route 4; Howard Bryant, Franklin and Dean Kershaw, 826 Freedman.

In the past they have demonstrated the ability to keep the show moving on schedule, regardless of the number of hogs the boys and girls bring to the fair.

The barrow carcass class, a contest that is being received with more interest each year, will be directed by Eddie Hymer, route 1, and Carmen Potter, route 2, co-chairmen. Their helpers include Charlie Jones, route 1; E. Y. Johnson, Ashland, and Eugene Martin, route 3.

Raymond Anderson, route 4, will again direct the poultry and rabbit competition. His assistants will be Robert Daniels, route 3, and Marvin Schieker, Meredosia.

Auction Aug. 7 The Morgan County 4-H livestock auction, which is limited to county club members only, is under the control of a special committee headed by Robert Darley. The assistants are Richard DeOrnellas, John Gordon, Bob Houston, Dean Kershaw, Warren Lakamp, Rollin Martin, Robert Middleton Jr., Cary Strang and Don Lakin of Murrayville, Doyle Taylor, Martin Burrus, Arenzville.

Charla Marie Mutch

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Mutch, Murrayville route one, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Charla Marie, to Roger Lee Sutton, son of the Alfred O. Suttons of Hollywood, Florida.

They will wed at two-thirty o'clock the afternoon of Sunday, August twenty-ninth at the Youngblood Baptist church at Nortonville and a reception will follow at the church. Since no formal invitations are being issued the couple takes this opportunity to invite friends and relatives.

Miss Mutch graduated this spring from Jacksonville High School. Mr. Sutton graduated in 1963 from South Broward High School in Hollywood.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Hembrough

Hembrough And Gusse Nuptials

Daniel Hembrough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Hembrough, Jacksonville route five, and his bride, the former Sara Ruth Gusse of Dixon are making their home at 657 East Peru street in Princeton, Illinois. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton F. Gusse, Dixon route four.

The couple's July tenth wedding was solemnized at Grace Evangelical United Brethren church in Dixon. The Reverend Robert Link of Nevada, Iowa officiated assisted by the Reverend Thomas Oakes, pastor of the church.

Miss Sara Baker of Leland, Illinois was at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Linda Tolon of Minonk.

White gladioli adorned the candlelighted altar. Ushering guests were David Hembrough, Carrollton, brother of the groom; David C. Gusse of Shannon, Ill., brother of the bride and Wayne Hayenga and Don Pritchard, both of Champaign.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white satin with embroidered lace detail, fashioned entrain. Her elbow length veil of illusion fell from a headpiece of cabbage roses and she carried a cascade of white roses, stephanotis, ivy and lemon leaves.

Mrs. David C. Gusse, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Miss Cheryl Eaton, Elwood and Miss Mary Hembrough of Jacksonville, sister of the groom, were bridesmaids. All were gowned identically in floor length pink chromspun acetate with a large bow at the waistline. They wore matching color cabbage rose headresses and carried cascades of white feather carnations centered with pink sweetheart roses.

Dan Back of Princeton attended the groom as best man and Richard Hembrough, Jacksonville, brother of the groom and Leland Hertzberger of Virginia were groomsmen.

At a reception held at the church the following assisted, Miss Rebecca Burrus, Arenzville, Mrs. David Hembrough, Carrollton; Miss Ruth Ann Kenney, Elkhart, Ind.; Mrs. Ray Ashley, Monroe, Wisconsin; Mrs. Leonard Metheny, Mattoon; Miss Wilma Beall, Apple River, Ill.; Miss Peggy Peasley, Stronghurst; Miss Katherine Kentner, Eldena; Miss Ruth Severson, Eldena; Miss Carolyn Gohr, Glen Ellyn and Miss Karen Cambden, Dewey.

Mrs. Hembrough graduated from Omby High School in 1961 and received her BS in home economics from University of Illinois in June. She was a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron and Omicron Nu, national home economics honorary. Mr. Hembrough graduated in 1960 from Jacksonville High School and received his BS degree in agricultural economics from University of Illinois in 1964.

He was a member of Alpha Gamma Rho, social and professional fraternity for agriculture. Mrs. Hembrough will be employed at the Allen Kitchen Mart in Princeton and Mr. Hembrough is the assistant farm adviser for Bureau County doing cooperative extension service.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Spann

Spann-Bauer

PITTSFIELD — An afternoon ceremony last Sunday, July eighteenth, at the First Congregational church here united in marriage Miss Barbara Bauer and Wilbur Spann.

White gladioli and palms decorated the candlelighted altar where the Reverend Kent Sanderson performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Bauer and the groom is the son of Mrs. Ellis Spann, and the late Mr. Spann.

Mrs. Frank Zualtrochci presided at the organ.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white silk organza and Chantilly lace with tiered skirt. Her illusion veil fell from a pearl queen's crown and she carried white roses and pompons.

Mrs. Phil Bauer, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore Mediterranean blue lace and chiffon over satin with matching hat and mitts. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Shirley Bauer and Marilyn Bauer, cousins of the bride, were bridesmaids and wore gowns similar to that worn by the matron of honor except the color was a lighter shade. They carried identical bouquets.

Sarah Beth Gerard was flower girl and wore a dress identical to those worn by the bridesmaids and her headress was in blue and white. Mike Gerard was ring bearer. Candles at the altar were lighted by Larry Snyder and Ron Corger.

Lyle Spann attended his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Phil Bauer and Bill Conger, brothers-in-law of the groom.

The mother of the bride wore pink and the mother of the groom blue. Both chose white accessories and wore corsages of white mums.

A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Assisting were Janice Butterfield, Lilly Brown, Marilyn Mullins, Rose Anne Smith, Peggy Farrell and Dorothy Crossman. The newlyweds are making their home at Lewistown, Mo., where both are employed.

POLYGLOT COMPANY
NEW YORK (AP) — Joseph Papp, executive producer of the city's free Shakespeare Festival, is aiming next at development of an acting company that reflects fully the polyglot nature of the community's population.

"We would like a company representative of all facets," says Papp, "not for sociological reasons but for artistic reasons."

Diversification of the troupe, he feels, would be a further step in development of new audiences for theater exhibits.

Mary Ann Reich Rae Allen Veith Brown Newlyweds

MT. STERLING—Among the lovely brides of mid-summer was Miss Mary Ann Reich, daughter of the Gerald Reichs, who was married to Rae Allen Veith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Yakle.

They were married July twenty-fourth at St. Joseph's Catholic church here. The Reverend Leonard Rathgeb officiated for the Nuptial Mass.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white nylon organza and lace over taffeta and tulle. A pearl trimmed taffeta crown held her veil of illusion and she carried a cascade of white Joppett orchids encircled with yellow sweetheart roses with leather leaf.

Miss Linda Krupps was maid of honor and wore yellow slipper satin with a matching headpiece. She carried a Colonial bouquet of lavender carnations on a yellow net base. Miss Kathi Schaeffer, cousin of the bride, was bridesmaid and Patty Reich, sister of the bride, was junior attendant. They wore lavender satin with matching hats and carried yellow carnations.

Ramona Ferguson of Liberty, cousin of the groom, was flower girl. She wore floor length white satin with a yellow and lavender gown. She carried a white basket of rosepetals. Her head-dress matched her costume.

Gary Nell of Rushville, cousin of the groom, was ring bearer. Jerry Yakle served his cousin as best man. Mike Wegs and Joe Ferguson, cousins of the bride and groom respectively, were groomsmen and ushers.

Mrs. Mary Joe Busen was at the organ and Paul Schenk sang.

White glads and lavender and yellow pompons flanked the altar.

The bride's mother wore lime green voile with white accessories and the groom's mother was in pink chiffon with black and white accessories. Both wore white gossamer.

A buffet reception was held in St. Mary's school gym after the morning ceremony. Assisting were Linda Shoopman, Mary Klingele, Joan Geisler, Cheryl Ferguson and Sandy Henderson.

The groom's parents hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday night at the local Legion hall.

The bride graduated from St. Mary's Academy here and attended Quincy Beauty School. She is on the staff at Louis's Beauty Salon here. The groom, a Brown County High School graduate, attended Peoria Barber School and is employed at the Roe Food Service.

The newlyweds will make their home here upon return from a short wedding trip.

Dunlap-Keenan

Newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Neal Dunlap are now residing at 1044 Center Street, North Mankato, Minnesota, following their June 12th wedding at Saints Peter and Paul's Catholic Church in Mankato.

The bride is the former Judith Ann Theresa Keenan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Otto of Mankato, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Dunlap of Hillview, Illinois.

The wedding ceremony was performed by Father Czarnecki, S.J., before an altar decorated with pink and white gladioli.

Organ music for the ceremony was provided by Sister Maxalinda. The soloist was Mrs. Mark Molski.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, wore a floor length gown of white peau de soie trimmed with Venice lace and featuring a chapel train.

The former Miss Keenan was attended by Miss Marilyn Waldoch, Glencoe, Minnesota, maid of honor, and JoAnne Miller, Mankato, was bridesmaid.

They wore floor length gowns of pink chiffon and carried matching satin bows with flower trimmed streamers. Flower headpieces matched their gowns.

Miss Rosalyn Thiel, Fergus Falls, Minnesota, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl, and she wore white chiffon over taffeta.

The best man was Dick Blue, Mankato. Groomsmen were Dennis Keenan, St. Paul, Minnesota, brother of the bride. Ushers were Bill Otto, Jr., brother of the bride, and Tom Oglesby, cousin of the bride.

A dinner in the Burton Hotel Dining Room in Mankato honored the couple following the wedding ceremony.

The bride, currently employed at Immanuel Hospital in Mankato, graduated from Loyola High school in Mankato, and from Rochester School of Practical Nursing, St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Minnesota.

The groom, a graduate of White Hall High school, is employed by the Mankato Citizens Telephone Company.

Guests attended the wedding from Twin Cities, Glencoe, Fergus Falls, Caledonia, Rochester, Rollingstone, and Bloomington, Minnesota, and from Illinois.

100 YEARS AGO

TRIAL OF MOWING-MACHINES, JULY 23 and 24, AT WEST MOUNT VERNON. (Sketched by A. R. Waud.)

A trial of new mowing-machines as to their efficiency and draft came off on the 23rd and 24th of July, on the banks of the little river Bronx, at West Mount Vernon, on the Harlem road. The competition was for the prize of a gold medal offered by the American Institute for the best mowing-machine.

Owing to the limited advertisement of the trial, and the short time allowed for preparation, but a few machines were present. About two thousand persons were present to witness the affair, but were kept waiting in the hot sun for hours after the appointed time.

As proving the merits of any one machine over the rest the trial can not be considered at all conclusive. It seems to us that at least a week's time should be given to such a trial, and that, under all the circumstances of various growths of clover and grass, the month of June decidedly offering the most advantages. The horses should be ordinary farm-horses, no great superiority of one team over another being allowed; the wear and tear of machines, the condition of the horses, and the amount of work done all being taken into consideration. The best farmers do not believe any thorough test of machines can be made in a day with picked men and horses, and machines much more highly wrought than the average of those kept for sale.

DOMESTIC

The old penitentiary building at Washington is to be pulled down. The prisoners have been removed to other places of confinement.

From the 30th of May last, when the disbanding of our armies commenced, up to and inclusive of the 17th July, two hundred and eight thousand soldiers were sent from Washington over the Baltimore and Ohio railroad.

A disaster occurred on July 21 on the Ohio Central Railroad, owing to the breaking of an engine wheel. The number of killed and wounded was over thirty. Eight soldiers and one civilian were instantly killed.

Father Walter, Mrs. Suratt's spiritual adviser, is making few friends by proclaiming his belief in her innocence. Father Walter was known throughout the war as one of the most bitter, uncompromising and malicious rebels in the community in which he resided, and his animosity toward the Government has increased rather than decreased.

During the year ending July 1, 1865, the receipts of HARPER'S WEEKLY on which taxes have been paid amount to $430,000. This represents a larger patronage, we believe, than is accorded any other weekly paper.

Legion Post Attains 100% Membership

Commander Clarence Stallings presided. Colors were presented by sergeant-at-arms Joe Palsgrove. The invocation was given by Chaplain Don Robinson. Minutes were read by adjutant pro tem, Lloyd F. Slagle.

Don Robinson, Boys State chairman, introduced Jim Hepworth, one of the boys sponsored by the local post to attend Illinois Boys State in Springfield. Jim gave an interesting report of his week stating he was fortunate to be chosen a member of the Band and a candidate to attend Law School.

Senior Vice Commander reported the Post has attained 100% membership with 754 registered. He expressed sincere gratitude to all assisting to achieve this goal.

Junior Vice Commander Frank Slagle reported on Post activities.

Commander Stallings reported on the showing of a film of the 1965 Indianapolis Speedway Races.

Elmer Gerard was reported a patient at Holy Cross hospital. Resurfacing of the newly acquired parking lot and the parking lot in the rear of the Legion Home was discussed. The house and grounds committee will evaluate the proposal.

The winner of the attendance prize was Charles Baker.

Correspondence was read from Paul Swanson, Third Division Commander, announcing the Third Division Organization Meeting on Sunday, August 8th at 1:30 p.m. in Farmington, Illinois.

Chaplain Don Robinson gave a short memorial service. The Post will meet Tuesday, August 3, at which time delegates to the Department Convention in Chicago July 22 through 25th will give reports.

WHAT'S ELECTROLYSIS?
There are few things more embarrassing to a woman than a patch of unwanted hair on her face. A superfluous growth of hair on her upper lip or on her cheek usually causes extreme self-consciousness and unhappiness.

The hair can be removed several ways. It can be shaved off, erased by a depilatory, abrasive or waxing, or removed by tweezing. However, all of these methods are temporary and must be repeated frequently to keep the hair under control. There is only one permanent way of doing the job and that's by electrolysis.

In electrolysis the papilla, which is source of the hair's life, is destroyed thus killing hair's growth.

The latest method of electrolysis that has been perfected is called thermolysis. It operates via a short wave machine, the principle of which is to coagulate the hair papilla by high frequency current.

MAKES GOOD SOCKS
HUNTINGTON CENTER, VI. (AP) — The musk ox is a home-ly beast — but it makes darned good socks and sweaters, says Prof. John J. Teal Jr. of the University of Alaska.

Teal, who owns a 600-acre farm here, says each spring the musk ox sheds about six pounds of a golden fiber resembling cashmere from beneath its coarse, brown outer coat.

The musk ox, Teal said, will follow a human around all day watching him work and will nuzzle his pockets looking for seeds.

In Hollywood

By JAMES BACON
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Bob Crane says he is gambling a sure $150,000 a year on a new television show which, if it hits, could make him a millionaire in five years.
If it doesn't, he could be unemployed in 13 weeks.
Crane, 37, is playing Hogan of "Hogan's Heroes," a show which CBS-TV believes is the prison camp answer to its successful "Sgt. Bilko" series of a few years ago.

Crane, like Phil Silvers, plays a service con man. He is interned in a Nazi prison camp during World War II, and although the Nazis supposedly run the camp, it's actually Col. Hogan who does.

"We're kind of a cross between James Bond and 'Von Ryan's Express,'" says Crane. "For instance, we've got the only prison camp with a steam bath for the inmates."

The show is a Bing Crosby production — another sign of success.

Crane is one of Los Angeles' top radio personalities. His early morning show on KNX, the CBS outlet, is one of the town's most popular. It pays him $75,000 a year. He gets another $75,000 or more from his role as the doctor neighbor on "The Donna Reed Show."

"I can always get my old job back at Hornell, N.Y.," says Crane. There's where he started in radio at $38 a week.

The role of Col. Hogan marks an advance in rank for Crane, once a corporal in the Connecticut National Guard.

"Whenever anyone asks me what I did in the service, I just tell him I was a member of the famed 'Remington Raiders'."

Most people, he says, go away impressed. Actually, "Remington Raiders" is the term applied to the enlisted men who push typewriters.

Crane was picked for the lucrative Los Angeles radio job in an unique way.

"I was doing a show in Bridgeport, Conn., and getting offers for more money from Boston and other cities in the east."

"But I figured I would hold out for New York. Then one day, I got a call out of the blue from Hollywood from KNX. It seems that Ralph Story, who did the early morning show, was going back east to emcee the '$64,000 Challenge'."

"They hired me because my show was heard in the New York area and was cutting into CBS' rating there. So when Hollywood started looking, they asked New York who was giving them trouble."

"And my competition kindly mentioned me. They killed two birds with one stone — they got rid of a nuisance and hired a new boy at the same time."

CHURCH WOMEN AT WHITE HALL PLAN SEWING PROJECT

WHITE HALL — The United Presbyterian Women met July 19 at the church with 15 in attendance. After group singing, Mrs. L. V. Kinser presented thoughts on "Praying Hands" and closed with prayer.
During the business session the treasurer was authorized to pay the sewing quota for the year. Mrs. Bess Cahoon sent information on the summer executive committee meeting to be held at Donnellson, Illinois on July 29th.

The Fellowship of the least coin was presented by Mrs. George Livingstone. Miss Edith Hyatt presented two articles from the Bible study. Mrs. Charles Arnold presented the lesson, A Cup of Water.

Mrs. Livingstone was thanked for the ten sewing kits she had made. The kits were distributed to members to be used in the sewing project for World Community Day to be held in November.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. C. LaVern Justis and Mrs. Russell Roodhouse from tables decorated with summer flowers.

What kinds of loans can Savings and Loan Associations make!

When you think of home loans, you probably think of Savings and Loan Associations. That would be natural because they are specialists in mortgages on homes. They originated the modern amortizing home loan—payable monthly, like rent. Many make FHA and VA home loans too.

But did you know that Savings and Loan Associations make many other types of loans? In recent years lending powers have been broadened so now many make loans for:
1. Home improvements
2. Apartment buildings
3. Commercial buildings
4. Churches, and private schools
5. Clinics, hospitals, nursing homes
6. Land developments
7. Urban renewal projects
8. College educations

Also, many make "passbook" loans. If you have an account, you may borrow instead of withdrawing your savings. You have the money you need while your savings are still earning. And, the net interest cost is usually less than if you borrowed elsewhere.

As the nation's largest source of home loans, Savings and Loan Associations have always contributed to the growth of the communities they serve. Now, through even wider services, their contributions to the community will be greater than ever.

Lincolnland Takes 8-5 Win And Series

Lincolnland came up with three runs in the sixth after Jacksonville had rallied to tie with four in the fifth and went on to score an 8-5 triumph and the rubber game in the best of three series in the Area Pony League All-Star Tournament at Nichols Park Friday night.

The winners will now meet the winner of the Western Illinois-Rushville area tourney at Nichols Park next week in a best of three playoff.

The action-packed game saw Lincolnland take a 4-0 lead in the third, then Jacksonville rally for one in the fourth and four more in the fifth on Chuck Dinkel's three-run homer.

Lincolnland then wrapped the contest up with a three-spot in the sixth, on key hits by Darrell Cox, his third of the night, and relief pitcher John Musgrove.

Jacksonville pitcher Duane Mounts, pitching with two-days rest, fanned ten in his seven innings, but got into trouble via walks and four errors committed behind him.

Lincolnland broke the scoring ice with four in the third, on only two hits, coupled with two costly errors by the locals. Cox and starting hurler Gary Vincent delivered RBI singles in the frame. They made it 5-0 with another in the fourth on a walk to Herman Mallicoate and a single by Cox, which was really a triple but he failed to touch second.

Jacksonville picked up one in the fourth when Jerry Lowe led off with a triple and scored on a wild pitch. A walk to David Ryan and a single by Mounts threatened further but Vincent whiffed the last man to end the frame.

The big inning for the locals came in the fifth when they pushed across four tallies to tie. Jim Seymour started it with a walk, followed by another to Roger Stewart. Dinkel then unloaded an opposite-field shot that went for a home run. The final tally came when Rod Cooley's fly ball went for a three-base error and Steve Gaudio bloomed a single to center.

A Jacksonville boot let the first man on in the sixth, followed by a single by Ed Snow. A walk loaded the bases, and Cox singled in his third run of the night. Musgrove chased the other two home with a shot to right center.

Birds Edge Twins In 9th Frame, 3-2

BALTIMORE (AP) — Brooks Robinson singled with the bases loaded in the ninth inning, driving in the winning run as the Baltimore Orioles defeated Minnesota 3-2 Friday night and cut the Twins' American League lead to 3 1/2 games.

The second-place Orioles, handling Jim Perry his first defeat after seven victories, had gotten only three hits when they struck in the ninth.

Charley Lau drew a walk, opening the inning, and Luis Aparicio went in to run. One out later Aparicio raced around to third on a single by Bob Johnson. Bill Pleis came in to pitch and issued a walk to Norm Siebern before Robinson stroked his game-winning hit off Johnny Klippstein.

Mets Edge Phils In 10th Inning On Pinch Single

NEW YORK (AP) — Pinch hitter John Stephenson singled to right field in the 10th inning, driving in the run that gave the New York Mets a 3-2 triumph over Philadelphia Friday night.

Relief pitcher Jack Baldschun retired the first batter in the 10th, but Ed Kranepool singled. Chuck Hiller followed with a pinch single, and Kranepool scored as Stephenson singled.

Jack Fisher held the Phillies hitless until the fourth when they scored two runs on a walk to John Briggs, Johnny Callison's double and a single by Rich Allen.

That gave the Phillies a 2-1 lead, but the Mets tied it in the bottom of the fourth on Jim Hickman's eighth homer over the left-field fence.

The Phillies had two players injured, second baseman Tony Taylor and center fielder Johnny Briggs. Both suffered cuts around the eyes while colliding chasing a fly ball in the eighth inning.

Right fielder Johnny Callison also was involved but did not leave the game. Taylor and Briggs were taken to a hospital.

AUG. 4, 1960 — In the dressing room at Chicago's Wrigley Field, Billy Martin of Cincinnati was attempting to explain: "Nobody's gonna throw a bean ball at me and get away with it."

Moments earlier he had been banished from the game after a fight with Cubs' pitcher Jim Brewer. In the second inning, with 4,209 spectators eyeballing the action, Martin had thrown his bat and rushed the opposing hurler, knuckles first.

He hit Brewer with a round-house right before players from both sides could interrupt the scuffle. Martin was unhurt but thumbed from play by umpire Stan Landes. Brewer was not penalized but, visibly shaken and bleeding at the nose, he was rushed to the hospital.

"Billy," said someone, "they say Brewer has a bone broken under his eye and will probably be out a month."

"If he's hurt, I'm sorry," Martin replied. "But nobody's gonna throw at my head. He threw at me and that was wrong."

"Somebody said I flipped my bat at him. That's not true. The

Cardenal Smacks Four Hits As LA Whips Bosox, 7-3

BOSTON (AP) — Jose Cardenal collected four hits, including his ninth homer, and Jim Fregosi contributed a home run in powering the Los Angeles Angels to a 7-3 victory over the hapless Boston Red Sox Friday night.

Cardenal, a 21-year-old rookie outfielder, had a double and a pair of singles in addition to his three-run homer in a decisive fourth inning which sent Boston's Jim Lonborg to his 11th defeat.

Fregosi led off the fifth with his ninth homer in helping send the ninth-place Red Sox down to their fifth straight defeat and 19th in their last 23 outings.

Brown Acquitted Of Assault And Battery Charge

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Jim Brown is ready to play football again after being found innocent Friday of assault and battery against an 18-year-old girl.

The 230-pound all-pro fullback for the Cleveland Browns said he was completely happy and ready to report to Coach Blanton Collier at the club's training camp at nearby Hiram.

Brown, the National Football League's leading ground gainer for seven of his eight years, has missed more than a week of practice. The NFL champions meet the College All-Stars Aug. 6 in Chicago.

The jury of seven women and five men deliberated only an hour and 20 minutes, a fact which Brown called significant. The 29-year-old father of three had been charged by Brenda Ayres with assault and battery. She testified he beat her in his motel room the night of June 19 and forced her into sexual relations. Both Brown and Miss Ayres are Negroes.

Brown, who testified he never had sexual relations with the 108-pound high school dropout, said: "The evidence proved it was a preposterous accusation." His wife, Sue, clutched hands with Brown's mother, Mrs. Theresa Brown, when the verdict was read. Mrs. Brown wept when Municipal Judge Blanche Krupansky read "not guilty."

Sue Brown said "I'm very happy it's all over." After the judge left the courtroom, people rushed to shake hands with Brown and slap him on the back. Brown commented on the effect of his 10-day trial on his image as a popular football player.

"I have been proven innocent. I hope the general public will accept this. I leave it to their judgment."

Browns President Art Modell said he had spent an evening with the fullback several weeks ago when charges were first filed on June 21.

Rookie outfielder Ken Berry of the Chicago White Sox had brief trials with the paleose each year since 1962.

Yale Lary To Retire From NFL

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Yale Lary, reflecting on 11 lively years in the National Football League, announced Friday his retirement as the Detroit Lions' punting and defensive specialist.

"When the coaches are younger than you are, it's time to quit," quipped Lary, 34, at what was designed to be a news conference prior to the official announcement.

The conference actually resembled a fraternity bull session with Lary, his tie askew, recalling incidents during the frequently turbulent years of the NFL.

Asked to elaborate on his experiences with Bobby Layne, one of the league's all-time great and stormy quarterbacks, Lary replied:

"You can't print them." "No, all those stories you hear about Layne-well ... they're all true. On and off the field, he's the greatest."

"He was the Chief. Everybody else was an Indian." The former Texas A&M star said Layne classified his companions during his off-field antics as "stayers or leavers—I was a stayer."

Demanding Protection On the field, he recalled, Layne demanded excellent protection from his blockers.

"If somebody didn't block for him, he'd send them off the field. He wouldn't let them play. He'd tell the coach, 'don't send that so-and-so or something similar in any more'."

"If he told you to block you blocked. If he told you to drink, you drank."

He said former Detroit Coach Buddy Parker and Layne, both individualists of the highest order, got along marvelously because they thought exactly alike.

Lary led the league in punting in 1959, 1961, and 1963. He was selected to the All-Pro team four times and played in the Pro Bowl nine times.

He intercepted 50 passes during his career and returned 126 punts for 752 yards.

Lary said he reached his decision to retire with great reluctance and with mixed emotions, adding:

"It's not easy to retire, but I had a good year last season and I prefer to leave with a good record. I owe it to my wife and children to establish a permanent home."

He plans to devote full time to a new automobile dealership he and Bobby Helm, a close friend, recently opened in suburban Hurst.

Hamlin's Double Allows Senators To Clip KC, 5-3

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ken Hamlin's two-run double with two out in the seventh inning helped the Washington Senators to a 5-3 victory over Kansas City Friday night.

Don Lock opened the seventh with a double to center and took third on pinch hitter Joe Cunningham's infield single. Lock was forced at the plate on Don Blasingame's grounder to second, but Hamlin ripped a shot past Wayne Causey at third, breaking a 3-3 tie.

Home runs by Lock and Willie Kirkland and Dick Nen's first-inning single scoring Hamlin accounted for the Senators' earlier runs. Hamlin also doubled in the first.

Friend One-Hits Cubs In 6-0 Win

CHICAGO (AP)—Bob Friend allowed only one hit — an infield single by Chicago's Don Landrum in the fourth — while pitching his 34th major league shutout for Pittsburgh Friday 6-0 with the help of two homers by Jim Pagliaroni and one by Donn Clendenon.

Friend, shutout leader among active right-handed pitchers in the National League, lost his chance at a no-hitter when Landrum's ground ball into the hole at shortstop was reached by Gene Alley, who never had a chance to make a play on the ball.

Pagliaroni hit his 10th and 11th homers on successive turns at bat in the second and fourth innings, each time with the bases empty. Clendenon lined his 10th homer into the vacant center field seats in the third. This combination of power was enough to snap Dick Ellsworth's seven-game winning streak at Wrigley Field.

Sims And Tiant Spark Cleveland Past Yanks, 5-2

CLEVELAND (AP) — Catcher Duke Sims drove in three runs with a homer and a single and pitcher Luis Tiant hit his second major league home run as the Cleveland Indians defeated the New York Yankees 5-2 Friday night.

Tiant, now 9-3, allowed only four hits before the Yankees touched him for three more and a run in the eighth inning. Sonny Siebert came on and ended the rally.

Sims lined his fourth homer off Jim Bouton, 4-11, over the right-field fence in the second, scoring Fred Whitfield, who had singled.

Tiant added his homer in the third. His only other major league homer last season also was off Bouton.

Detroit Rallies To Nip Chisox Near Finish, 6-5

DETROIT (AP) — Two-run home runs by Don Demeter and Bill Freehan powered the Detroit Tigers to a come-from-behind 6-5 victory over the Chicago White Sox Friday night.

Orlando Pena, who relieved starter Hank Aguirre in the third inning, gave up only four hits and recorded his second triumph since coming to the Tigers from Kansas City.

Demeter homered off Chicago starter John Buzhardt in the second after the White Sox had touched Aguirre for three runs in the top of the inning on Ken Berry's two-run triple and Don Buford's sacrifice fly.

Freehan's homer capped a three-run Detroit sixth inning. A double by Willie Horton and Dick McAuliffe's single produced the first run of the inning, and Freehan came through after Demeter forced McAuliffe.

Friend's fifth victory of the year was his first since July 3. He also got to Ellsworth for a single in the second inning, his first hit since July 10, 1964, snapping a string of 74 consecutive hitless trips to the plate.

Friend had one previous one-hitter, broken up by the Cubs' Frankie Baumholtz on an infield hit in the eighth inning, Sept. 7, 1955.

Jay Gives Three Hits As Reds Bomb Astros 9-1

HOUSTON (AP) — Joey Jay allowed three hits, only one after the first inning, and Frank Robinson stroked four singles as Cincinnati whipped Houston 9-1 Friday night.

Jay, bringing his record to 8-2, gave up a run in the first inning when Joe Morgan led off with a double and Lee Maye followed with a single. But Ron Brand's lead-off single in the fifth was the only other Houston hit.

Claude Raymond held the Reds to one hit — the first of Robinson's singles — through five innings.

But Leo Cardenas led off the sixth with a single and came home as Pete Rose tripled. Singles by Vada Pinson, Robinson and Deron Johnson scored another Cincinnati run in the seventh, and the Reds put the game away with four runs in the eighth.

from ages 18 and over. Prepare now for U. S. Civil Service job openings during the next 12 months.

Government positions pay high starting salaries. They provide much greater security than private employment and excellent opportunity for advancement. Many positions require little or no specialized education or experience.

But to get one of these jobs, you must pass a test. The competition is keen and in some cases only one out of passes.

Lincoln Service has helped thousands prepare for these tests every year since 1948. It is one of the largest and oldest privately owned schools of its kind and is not connected with the Government.

Steckel Funeral Held In Greene

CARROLLTON — Funeral services for Lawrence Steckel were held at 9 a.m. Thursday at St. John's Catholic church with the Monsignor Michael Enright officiating.

Pallbearers were George Steckel Jr. and Philip Henry Steckel, both of Greenfield; Max Brannan of Eldred; Joe Schmitt, Robert Graner and Hal Kessinger of Carrollton. Burial was in St. John's cemetery.

Hospital Notes

Miss Sharon Kinsey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Kinsey of Arenzville, is a patient at Schmitt hospital, Beardstown, recovering from severe burns suffered in an accident at her home.

Mrs. Otis McGinnis of Roodhouse is being treated at White Hall hospital for head injuries sustained when she fell at her home.

COW STRUCK, KILLED ON OLD STATE ROAD

A short horn cow was struck and killed about eight miles east of Jacksonville on the Old State Road at approximately 9:30 p.m. Friday.

Driver of the car, James F. Brown, 19, of Oakford, escaped injury, but his car was heavily damaged as a result of the collision.

State police revealed that Brown, westbound on the highway, said the cow came out of a ditch along the northside of the highway and he was unable to avoid the collision.

Police said a check was being made to determine the owner of the animal.

ANSWER CHARGES FRIDAY

A Jacksonville man and Springfield woman appeared in magistrate's court Friday to answer charge in two separate cases.

Otis W. Nutgrass of 903 West Chambers pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct following an incident in the South Sandy street parking lot on the night of July 2.

He was fined $5 and $20 in costs by Magistrate Don McNamara.

Earlier Friday a Springfield woman, Helen Trail, 45, pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal transportation and was fined $15, and $28 in costs.

She was apprehended by state police Wednesday evening east of the city.

TO MOVE TOWN

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Residents of Klamath are ready to move — town and all.

The Northern California community, located on the Klamath River, was almost washed away during last year's Christmas floods.

The state resources agency has approved a federal plan for relocating the town, administrator Hugo Fisher said Thursday.

The new town will be built at least five feet above the river's record crest.

WANTED

For new department — experience preferred. Sales minded young lady — men's sports wear — hosiery — handbags — general merchandise. Splendid opportunity — salary arrangements or will supplement capital: Aggressive — personable — hard worker — if you have these qualifications experience secondary. Will train. Write Box 254 Journal Courier.

Texans Return From Fair After Two Year Trip

BEARDSTOWN — A Texas couple whose mode of transportation harks back to the days of the covered wagon stopped in Rushville Thursday morning enroute to Quincy from Astoria and said that they had covered about 5,000 miles in their unusual trek from Amarillo during the past two years and three months.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Prickett, each driving a team of mules hitched to a covered wagon, stopped at the Rushville square and attracted considerable attention from townspeople.

On July 27 the Pricketts will have completed two years and three months on their long journey which has taken them to the World Fair over modern highways.

They said their mules didn't "mind" the traffic.

Originally a 16-year-old daughter of the couple handled a third team and wagon, but she tired of the travel, went back home to enter nursing training, and the extra outfit was sold. The Pricketts also have a son in the army. They report their most exciting experience on the trip was at Gettysburg, Pa., where they were taken in as members of the Mohawk Indian tribe.

They travel with complete camping equipment, three hens, rooster and a Collie dog. The hens, they claim, provide 3 to 6 eggs daily despite the constant "riding."

Scott Driver Escapes Injury In Friday Crash

A Winchester youth was examined for possible injuries resulting from a car-truck collision near the junction of U.S. 36-54 and Ill. 104 by-pass west of Jacksonville Friday evening.

Taken to Passavant hospital, where he was examined and later released was James E. DeGroot, 17, of Winchester.

DeGroot was the driver of a westbound car on U.S. 36-54 which was struck by a Prairie Farms milk truck, driven by Robert E. Coulter of Quincy.

Police said Coulter pulled from the Westgate truck stop drive across U.S. 36-54 headed north into the path of the DeGroot vehicle.

No injuries were reported in a two car accident at the intersection of Webster and Lafayette streets about 8:30 p.m.

City police revealed that an eastbound car on West Lafayette driven by Ronald D. Baptist of Virginia was without lights when it struck a westbound vehicle.

Former Greene Veterinarian Dies At Age 95

CARROLLTON — Funeral services for Dr. H. H. Gleason, former Carrollton veterinarian who died in Carlinville Wednesday, were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at the Heinz Funeral Home, Carlinville. Burial will be in Carrollton City cemetery.

Dr. Gleason, 95, passed away unexpectedly at his home in Carlinville at 10 a.m. Wednesday. He had practiced in Carlinville for 46 years and in Carrollton for six years before moving to Chicago 36 years ago. He returned to Carlinville several years ago.

He was born near Carlinville June 26, 1870, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Gleason. His wife, the former Emma Welch, died in 1947.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. George Andrews of Carrollton and Mrs. A. F. Avery of Chicago and one son, Ernest Gleason of St. Louis.

BOOST TEACHERS SALARIES service. The range now is $4,500 ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The minimum salary range for New York public school teachers by state law will be increased next July to $5,200. Seven years are required for new teachers and $8,000 for those in their 12th year of service. The average life expectancy of an elephant is about 45 years.
